FR. BOB'S UTTERINGS

2ND Sunday of Lent

Luke 9:28b-36

During this second week of Lent, we are reminded in today's gospel account of the Transfiguration of Jesus that Peter, James, and John are to heed the voice of the Father which tells them "This is my chosen Son; listen to him." Jesus is then left alone—he alone now will be the spokesperson for his Father. All must listen to Jesus.

Perhaps the most important thing in Luke's gospel today is the indication of what Jesus, Moses, and Elijah were discussing during the Transfiguration. They "spoke of his exodus that he was going to accomplish in Jerusalem". Later, in Luke 9:51 he says of Jesus, "He resolutely determined to journey to Jerusalem." For Luke the exodus, the departure of Jesus, will include not only the death and Resurrection of Jesus, but also his Ascension. The Transfiguration will support the faith of the disciples as they, too, will suffer and be killed. They will come to see the Resurrection as the ultimate goal.

During this week as we continue our Lenten journey and embrace the challenge of conversion in our lives we are reminded that we too are to be transformed on the path to Easter. May we look to the power, glory and majesty of Jesus' Transfiguration as a reminder to each of us to continue to strive for change, transformation, and conversion in our own lives this Lent through prayer, fasting, and almsgiving.

Lenten Parish Mission 2007

Next weekend we will hear Fr. Lou Tylka, pastor of Mater Christi Parish in North Riverside, speak to us at all the Masses about our need not only to embrace the challenge of conversion but to use this time in our lives to truly recognize who we are and who we would like to become in Christ. Fr. Lou will direct our Lenten Mission on Monday, March 12, Tuesday, March 13, and Wednesday, March 14, at 7:30 p.m., in the church. Please join your parish community each night in search of God's grace through embracing the challenge of conversion in your life. There will be opportunities for guidance, prayer, reflection, reconciliation, celebration of the Eucharist, and growth in your personal relationship with the Lord during these very special evenings.

Lenten Parish, Religious Ed., and School Project

Please continue to support our Parish, Religious Ed., and School Project, "The Heifer International Project", throughout Lent. Your contributions to this wonderful effort helps families in more than 125 countries improve their quality of life and moves them toward greater self-reliance. The money we collect during Lent in your "Arc" boxes will purchase animals for families around the world who are in need. For more information regarding this wonderful project, check out our parish website at (www.stcletusparish.com/religioused).

*May the grace of Lent be with you,
Fr. Bob*

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time.

SUNDAY, MARCH 4, 2007

SECOND SUNDAY OF LENT

Reveal your true nature

The Transfiguration describes a sudden and dramatic change. For a moment, the veil is pulled back and the disciples get a glimpse of the divine nature of Jesus, their earthly companion who is at the same time one of them and not one of them—fully human and fully divine. Yet each of us has at least a spark of that divinity within us, and more than a spark. We are made in the image and likeness of God. Our own transfigurations, however, happen more slowly, over the course of a lifetime of prayer, reflection, faith, discovery, trial and error, practice, and forgiveness. Try to catch a glimpse of your own divine nature today, in an act of faith, hope, or charity.

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 15:5-12, 17-18; Philippians 3:17-4:1; Luke 9:28a-36

"And while he was praying, the appearance of his face changed."

MONDAY, MARCH 5 LENTEN WEEKDAY

The bad people we can all agree on

Many of us could compose a list of folks that seem to ignite almost universal condemnation. That list would probably include terrorists and mass murderers, those who hurt children or other vulnerable members of society. But almost immediately, we find ourselves in grey territory where people of good will disagree heartily about who these "vulnerable members" are that deserve our protection. The more we seek to condemn, the more grey areas we encounter. This is why Jesus commands us to condemn no one. If we saw as God sees, on a case-by-case basis, the world might look very different.

TODAY'S READINGS: Daniel 9:4b-10; Luke 6:36-38
"Do not condemn, and you will not be condemned."

TUESDAY, MARCH 6 LENTEN WEEKDAY

Service is better than greatness

It's not hard when you're a parent to inflict your authority on your children. We don't mean to do it; it just sort of happens. It's the way we were brought up, a kind of parenting model we inherited from our own parents. The problem is that it doesn't seem to work. Most parents complain that their kids simply ignore their authority. What if we turned it around and served the goodness that is already in our kids? Praise for the good things our kids do is a more powerful tool than criticism. A good discipline for Lent might be to lay off the scolding and concentrate on encouragement.

TODAY'S READINGS: Isaiah 1:10, 16-20; Matthew 23:1-12
"The greatest among you will be your servant."

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7 FEAST OF PERPETUA AND FELICITY, MARTYRS
The future isn't ours to control

Parental love—such as that of the mother in today's gospel ambitious for her boys; that of Perpetua, a young mother still nursing, and her eight-months' pregnant servant, Felicity, who were both threatened with martyrdom in third-century North Africa but determined to remain faithful; or that of Perpetua's father trying to save his daughter by persuading her to renounce her Christianity—no matter if it is our deepest, fiercest love, cannot always secure the future of our loved ones or save them from harm. What parents and children can always do, however, like the Master, is to serve one another by the example of our own fidelity.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 18:18-20; Matthew 20:17-28

"Declare that these two sons of mine will sit, one at your right hand and one at your left, in your kingdom."

THURSDAY, MARCH 8 FEAST OF JOHN OF GOD, RELIGIOUS
Back from the edge

If there were ever a patron saint for people who jump to extremes and then find a balance in their lives, it would be John of God (1495-1559). First he was a wild-living soldier nearly hanged after being accused of stealing from the army. After a reprieve, he was so grateful he spent two days praying before a roadside crucifix. Going to Granada in Spain, he heard a sermon by Blessed John of Avila that so moved him to repentance he became unhinged. He gave away everything and roamed the streets beating himself and begging forgiveness for his past sins. This behavior landed him in a mental hospital.

The compassionate John of Avila visited him and advised him to do something for others rather than only be obsessed with himself. John of God heeded the advice and opened a house for the care of the sick and poor. Next time you feel yourself bouncing around in life, stop, center, and shift your focus from your problems to others' needs.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 17:5-10; Luke 16:19-31

"The poor man died and was carried away by the angels to be with Abraham."

FRIDAY, MARCH 9 LENTEN WEEKDAY

Mind the messenger

Many times in scripture we hear of messengers being mistreated—beaten and killed or, in the case of Joseph, sold into slavery by his brothers. What is it about messengers we are afraid of? It's true that sometimes the message they carry is painful—at first. Yet the truth always has the potential to set us free.

As these readings reveal, all types of people can be messengers. This Lent, let's be aware of the many messengers we encounter in the course of a day. How do we respond to them? With fear? Contempt? Jealousy? Can we be open to their message, no matter how uncomfortable initially? Prayer helps.

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 37:3-4, 12-13a, 17b-28a; Matthew 21:33-43, 45-46

"The kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people that produces the fruits of the kingdom."

SATURDAY, MARCH 10 LENTEN WEEKDAY

You deserve it

Of all the parables Jesus told, the one about the prodigal son may be the most well-known. We love it because it tells us that Jesus accepts us regardless of our earlier sins. It is comforting to know we all have a chance at rebirth. We should not, however, overlook how truly radical Jesus' teaching was. It is the son who "has come back to life" who receives the greatest reward. God distributes grace not by any discernible formula, but only by God's own will. Be mindful of all the gifts you surely don't deserve, so that you may celebrate others' "undeserved" good fortune as well.

TODAY'S READINGS: Micah 7:14-15, 18-20; Luke 15:1-3, 11-32

"We had to celebrate, because this brother of yours was dead and has come back to life."

EMBRACE THE CHALLENGE OF CONVERSION

Throughout these forty days of Lent, we have committed ourselves to embracing the challenge of prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Consider the suggestions below as we begin our second week of this holy season.

- Prayer
- + Set down some spiritual goals that will help you return to the Lord.
  - + Read and reflect on the daily reading offered in your Lenten booklets.
  - + Pray the Stations.
  - + Look for the presence of God in your life today.
  - + Participate at the Sunday Eucharist.
- Fasting
- + Fast in solidarity with those who are hungry by eating a simple meal one day this week.
  - + Fast from a TV show or computer game. Instead, take a walk or play a board game.
  - + Fast from gossiping/speaking unkindly of others.
- Almsgiving
- + In our world today, more than 800 million people struggle to survive on a dollar a day or less. The average cost of a special coffee or latte, or fast food treat is $3+. For one day in each week of Lent, try giving the money you would spend on these nonessential treats, to the Heifer project or the food pantry.
  - + Send a card or note to someone with whom you have been out of touch or avoiding.
  - + Sit together as a family, a couple, or friends, and brainstorm ways that you could be of service to others in the community.
    - make a BEDS meal
    - bring food to church for the food pantry
    - offer a Senior a ride to the store or church or invite them out to breakfast

“In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.”

Now the Word of God is entrusted to us, to be proclaimed and shared with others at home, at work, in our neighborhood – and, in our worship.

Young, old, and those in-between, would you consider sharing your faith through the Lector Ministry? Please call the Worship Office at (708) 352-4834 for further information.

Tentative training dates are: March 7 and March 15.
Paulette Bolton
Director of Worship

RCIA Rite of Election

On Sunday, February 25, despite snow, sleet, ice and wind, our RCIA candidates attended the Rite of Election at Holy Name Cathedral. This was one of five services calling forward all of those chosen to receive the Sacrament of Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist. This calling, or election, is founded on the election by God, in whose name the Church acts. Bill

Cerwin and Holly Grimm were acknowledged in this ceremony.

In the Call to Continuing Conversion the Church welcomes those who are already baptized and are preparing to complete their initiation through both Confirmation and Eucharist and are preparing to be received into the full communion of the Catholic Church.

Also in attendance were the personal and parish sponsors for the Elect. Congratulations on this huge commitment. We, your parish family, are proud of you and will continue to pray for you on your journey to full membership in the Church.

Pat Kahl
Director of Religious Education

Ambassadors of Mary will be at the DalPorto home from now until March 10. Come join us for the Rosary. Details are on the bulletin board in the church vestibule. All are welcome! Questions? Call Karen, (708- 482-0035).

The Latest on the "Arc"

As it was for Noah, so for today: The ark is about hope and a new beginning. For Heifer project families, farm animals can provide:

- nutritious food for the children through milk, eggs or meat
- income for housing, health care, school fees and other needs
- motivation to plant trees and grasses and make other environmental improvements a catalyst for community development.

The ark is also about multiplication and bringing forth life.

We hope that your family is a member of the Heifer Team.

"Meet Our R.C.I.A. Candidates"

Hi! My name is Denise Kuchta.

I was born and raised in Genoa, IL (a very small town which was once referred to as the common day Mayberry in the Chicago Tribune).

My parents brought me up in the Lutheran Faith, and it was a big part of my life. In my youth I enjoyed playing the trumpet in the band, running track and cross-country, and acting in plays. Upon graduation I went to Western Illinois University to study math education. While at Western, I met my husband Nick Kuchta. I am currently a 7th grade math teacher in Algonquin, IL. This is my 6th year as an educator and I love my job! A few years back I completed my Masters Degree in Education Leadership from Aurora University.

My husband and I live in Willowbrook. We have been married for almost 4 years. For years we discussed religion and the impact we wanted it to have on our lives. Nick was raised Catholic here at St. Cletus. He and his family are members of the parish and have brought me to Mass on several occasions. Over time I started to feel comfortable here and made the decision that I wanted to become Catholic for myself and for our future family. I started the RCIA process shortly before learning that we are expecting our first child.

The RCIA process has been really inspiring for me so far. In a lot of ways it has taken me back to the days when I was in my youth group. On Sunday mornings I enjoy discussing the Word and how it relates to our lives. On Wednesday evenings I am accompanied by my parish sponsor, which is also my mother-in-law, Ann Kuchta. This has brought me closer to her as I learn about the traditions of Church through her eyes. I am excited to be welcomed into the Church on Holy Saturday for many reasons. I am looking forward to sitting next to my husband in church and to take part in the entire Mass. Mostly I am excited to continue to grow as a person with God and to some day experience it with my children.

Girl Scout Sunday

The Girl Scouts of St. Cletus Parish will celebrate Girl Scout Sunday on March 18, at the 11:00am Mass. All Scouts, volunteers, and their families are invited to worship together. There will be an award ceremony following Mass for those Scouts who have earned a religious award.

Congratulations to all our 7th grade students who participated in our annual History Fair and our 8th grade students who participated in our annual Science Fair.

For the 7th grade History Fair, students chose a subject from Illinois and depicted its history with a timeline and graphics. Honorable mention was awarded to Kelly Meade; Kendra Tosheff; Andy Balch and Chris Mosquera; and Kimberly Sipek. The following students qualified for the regional History Fair scheduled for March 31 at North Central College: Marty Bruce and Mike Thomas; Ashley Heslin; Joe Kern and Brian Franklin; Julie Jaskierski; Gabe Valdes; and Lora Vietzen. Best of luck to them as they hope to advance to the state finals in Springfield this May.

Our 8th grade class showed they know what scientific experiments are all about. Honorable mention was awarded to Cassie Levitske; Cody Funk; Elle Mrazek; and Mike Gray and Quinn Collins. Regional qualifiers will present their experiments at the Museum of Science and Industry. Our 8th graders who qualified include Meg McGrath and Heidi Heim; Jill Babirak and Frances Galin; Jillian Gable and Kelle Caplice; Chelsea Barker and Katherine Nichin; Ben Okkema; Kelsey Kelliher and Moira King; Joe Busta; and Michael Micek.
