Notes from Father Bob...

Corpus Christi 2008

Today's readings are about a memorial. It is not made of stone like those we raise in memory of those who we have lost, but is nonetheless real: a memorial meal. The Eucharist which we celebrate today is the memorial instituted by Jesus. It draws attention to his life; it proclaims his death; and it celebrates his resurrection from the dead. The Eucharist draws attention to issues in our world that have not gone away and are much needed: sacrifice, service, presence, and redemptive love.

In today's first reading, Moses reminds the people of God's saving goodness, shown to them over many years. The remembering is important, because it keeps the people alive to the continuing saving presence of God. Similarly, Paul emphasizes the importance of the Eucharist, this memorial which represents an intimate sharing in the life of Christ, which binds people together more surely than anything that can tear them apart.

Jesus draws on the familiar tradition of God's provision for the people in the desert and takes it much further. It is not manna which now feeds and nourishes. It is his own flesh, given for the life of the world. Here we have a memorial which draws on the past, takes place in the present, and promises the future. It effects union with Christ, and so with the Father.

So this celebration works on many levels at once. We hear again of the sacrifice of Jesus, his self-giving, his offering of his own life that we might live. We are reminded that in the Eucharist we enjoy communion with Jesus, and so are drawn into his life with the Father. We are also drawn together in faith and become a community with Christ's self-giving at its centre. We commit ourselves to Christ's kingdom of justice, reconciliation, and peace.

When we celebrate the Eucharist, we are caught up in a living memorial. We are challenged to deepen our commitment to each other as we reflect on the example of Jesus, who gives generously of himself, that we might live. His life of loving service inspires us and empowers us to serve as he does.

Our communion with Christ and with each other in the Eucharist is the beginning of eternal life. In Christ we are already in the tomb, and already risen and ascended to the Father. Eternal life has already begun for us. The Eucharistic memorial is where we are reminded of this and taken up in it. Our communion is our salvation, tangible and very near.

Our great civic memorials commemorate lives lived and lost, and the Eucharist is no exception; but it is much more too. The life that was lived and lost was found again. Jesus died and was raised from the dead. So too our lives are lived, will be lost, and will be restored to us by God's grace. A memorial which can do this can only come from God. That God's own self is caught up in this memorial can only come from love.

IMPORTANT DATES TO REMEMBER

June 3rd at 7:00 pm we will hear the results of our Parish Convocation and begin our first step toward implementation of the many recommendations that have surfaced through this year long process. Our Parish Pastoral Council will take these recommendations and develop a 3 to 5 year plan for implementation.

June 21st & 22nd we will be holding our Parish Ministry Weekend after all the Masses. This is an opportunity for our many ministries within the parish to promote their ministries and to reach out for additional help and participation. We salute the wonderful and blessed ministries of our parish and look forward to this opportunity to recognize their dedicated work.

June 22nd at the 11:00 am Mass we will officially say Thank You and God Bless to Father Pat O'Neill for his past seven years of dedicated service to the people of St. Cletus Parish as he prepares to move on to a new assignment. We will honor him with a reception following Mass in Morrissey Hall. Please mark your calendars for this very special day.

July 1st we will welcome Father Edgar Rodriguez who will be our new Associate Pastor. Father Edgar will replace Father Pat and comes to us from Santa Maria Del Popolo Parish in Mundelein. We look forward to his arrival and his ministry here in our parish. More information about Father Edgar will follow as his arrival date approaches.

*Blessings of Christ in the Eucharist to All,
Father Bob*

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time.

SOLEMNITY OF THE MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST

Enjoy a full-bodied feast

The addition of today's feast to the church calendar was primarily the result of the work of 13th-century Augustinian nun Juliana of Liège. She worked in her convent's hospital nursing the sick. During this time she reported having visions of Christ reminding her that there was no feast for the Holy Sacrament. She persuaded Saint Thomas Aquinas to compose a special prayer to honor the Blessed Sacrament, and in 1264 Pope Urban IV made Corpus Christi a feast day. Today is a fitting day to ponder what it might mean for us to give ourselves "body and soul" to the Good News, as Jesus did.

TODAY'S READINGS: Deuteronomy 8:2-3, 14b-16a; 1 Corinthians 10:16-17; John 6:51-58

"The cup of blessing that we bless, is it not a sharing in the blood of Christ?"

MONDAY, MAY 26

FEAST OF PHILIP NERI, PRIEST - Conversion by any means

Though God is only and ever one and unchangeable, curiously there are a wide variety of ways by which people may come to God. Few understood this better than Saint Phillip Neri (1515-1595). Known for his unpredictability, Phillip took vastly different approaches to bringing people to a conversion. Once when a man came to his Oratory prayer meeting for the sole purpose of mocking it, Phillip refused to let him be thrown out or reproached. Eventually this man, seeing such patience, became a Dominican. In quite another example, when Phillip encountered a sinner who refused to listen to him or to repent, Phillip seized the man at the neck and threw him to the ground. The startled man pretty quickly consented to repentance! Consider how your small attempts at evangelization might be tailored to each individual.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Peter 1:3-9; Mark 10:17-27

"Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?"

TUESDAY, MAY 27

FEAST OF AUGUSTINE OF CANTERBURY, BISHOP

A mission of love

In the sixth century Pope Gregory I sent Saint Augustine and 40 other Benedictine monks on a daunting journey to bring the gospel to England. At that time the only missionaries in the West had been monks in Ireland, and Rome had lost touch with the Celtic church. As a missionary, Augustine was sensitive to cultural differences and sought not to coerce the English with the Good News but show them it was for their good, telling the king, Ethelbert, "Do not see us as coming to force upon an unknown people benefits against their will. Be assured that only a great love constrains us to do this." In witnessing to what we believe, we should start with where people are at, not where we want them to be, and try to show them the way of faith will enrich their lives.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Peter 1:10-16; Mark 10:28-31

"For it is written, 'You shall be holy, for I am holy.'"

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28 - First serve

All throughout history there have been truths that, once discovered and accepted, have changed everything. That the earth is round is one such truth; that the sun is the center of our solar system is another. The revolution in thought that followed these discoveries is hard to overstate. The same applies to spiritual truths: Once they are known and accepted, the unwieldy, disconnected pieces of our lives tend to fall into place and everything changes for the better.

Jesus' statement, "I came not to be served, but to serve," is one such radical, spiritual truth. If we lived our lives from this perspective, conflicts would be transcended and wisdom and compassion would prevail. Just for today, can I approach every task and every person with this attitude in mind?

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Peter 1:18-25; Mark 10:32-45

"For the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve."

THURSDAY, MAY 29 - Call forwarding

Mother Teresa—now Blessed Teresa of Calcutta—had a way of packing a lot of insight into statements that on the surface seemed pretty elementary. Take for example the way she described the Missionaries of Charity, the order she founded to care for the destitute dying and other "unwanted" persons: "Many people mistake our work for our vocation," she said. "Our vocation is the love of Jesus." Her words can apply to everyone. Whatever you do, put love for Jesus, and others, at the heart, and you will be truly living a vocation and a calling.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Peter 2:2-5, 9-12; Mark 10:46-52

"And they called to the blind man, 'Take heart; get up, he is calling you.'"

FRIDAY, MAY 30

SOLEMNITY OF THE MOST SACRED HEART OF JESUS

Listen to the beating of Love

The 13th-century mystic Saint Gertrude received a vision of John the Evangelist. Her first question to him concerned the night of the Last Supper when the disciple rested his head on Jesus' chest. She wondered, had he heard Christ's heart beating, and if so, why he had not revealed that to us. But John replied he had withheld this intimate revelation until a time when the world had grown cold.

Meditate on this intimacy, laying your head on the chest of Jesus and feeling his sacred heart beat for you, as sure and constant as the rising and setting sun. As long as it beats, it remains, as the Litany of the Sacred Heart tells us, patient and rich and mercy, the desire of the everlasting hills.

TODAY'S READINGS: Deuteronomy 7:6-11; 1 John 4:7-16;

Matthew 11:25-30

"Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest."

SATURDAY, MAY 31

VISITATION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY - Let it begin with me

So many events in the Bible would never have occurred if humans had not believed enough to act in spite of their doubts and fears. In story after story we read that people are essential to carrying out God's plan for humanity. From Abraham and Sarah to Mary and Elizabeth, and continuing right down through the centuries to the present day, God inspires us to speak that courageous word, to offer that consoling message, to say "yes" to what we are asked to do.

You are God's hands and ears and mouth. The next time you feel the prompting of the spirit of God, ask yourself, "If not me, then who? If not now, when?"

TODAY'S READINGS: Zephaniah 3:14-18a or Romans 12:9-16;

Luke 1:39-56

"Blessed are you who believed that what was spoken to you by the Lord would be fulfilled."
