Notes from Fr. Bob...

29TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Harry, a successful businessman, had got where he was by being very careful with his money. After years of prosperity the country and world were suddenly plunged into deep recession. Harry's business was badly hit and he was in danger of bankruptcy. He went into church and prayed to God. "Lord," he prayed, "this is Harry. You know me. I come to church every Sunday. I try to lead a good life. But now I've fallen on hard times. My wife and family are suffering. Lord, please get me out of this. Please let me win the lottery." Saturday came. There was no lottery win for Harry. A second time he went to church. "Lord," he prayed, "I can't impress upon you enough the urgency of my situation. Please, Lord let me win the lottery." Saturday came: still nothing. A third time Harry went to church. "Lord, I'm desperate. Please, please, let me win the lottery." At that moment a voice came from heaven. "Harry, can't you meet me half way? Can't you at least BUY A LOTTERY TICKET?"

We're inclined to be a bit upset about the kind of prayer Harry prayed. We think it's unworthy, or at least in bad taste, to pray so blatantly for something for yourself. We think we should be praying for worthy things, or better still, we shouldn't be asking for things at all. But that's not how Jesus talks about prayer. Whenever Jesus talks about prayer in the gospels it is nearly always to urge his followers to ask for things from their heavenly Father. The parable in today's gospel is a good example. Jesus urges his friends to be persistent in asking God for what they need and what they want. Harry had something in common with the widow in today's gospel. Firstly, he was persistent and, secondly, he asked for what he really wanted. True, he failed to play his part in the transaction, but two out of three isn't bad!

The widow in the parable is being held up as a model for the disciple in prayer. The message is: keep on praying. Be persistent. But the unjust judge does not stand for God. Jesus is not saying that God is reluctant to answer prayer. He is CONTRASTING God with the unjust judge. God's desire to help is being contrasted with the unjust judge's reluctance to help. When we persist in our prayer we are expressing our faith in God's willingness and desire to help us; we are affirming our belief in God's goodness, we are acknowledging our dependence on God for everything we have and everything we are.

Jesus is very realistic about prayer. He understands that we often reach out in prayer to God when we are desperate. When someone we love is seriously ill we bombard heaven with our prayers, and we ask others to pray for them; the more prayers the better. At that moment we have no doubt about what we want, and we have no difficulty in asking God for it. That kind of prayer in which we pester God, and go on pestering him, is just the kind of prayer that Jesus urges his followers to pray. It's not an inferior kind of prayer. It's not a selfish prayer. It is the foundation of all prayer. And let's be clear what we are praying for: we're praying for the person we love to get better. We're appealing to God precisely for that. We shouldn't try to make our prayer 'respectable' by praying "that the doctors and nurses will be inspired to do their job properly." Of course, we can pray for that as well. But we are first and foremost praying that our loved one will be restored to health. Questions about how God answers prayer have no place in times like this. There ARE theological questions about prayer and how God answers prayer. But they have nothing to do with the business of actually praying. When we kneel down to say our prayers we do so in a simple and straightforward way, taking Jesus at his word: "Ask and you will receive; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you." Like the widow in the parable, like Harry the businessman, we know what we want and we simply go on asking God for it.

In Prayer Always,

Good sportsmanship and a desire to stay in shape are all that is required. New teams are picked each week. All players are asked to bring one white and one dark shirt each week. Please email John at johnfjacobs@yahoo.com to be added to the email list

ST. CLETUS LIVING ROSARY TABLE

NEXT WEEKEND St. Cletus Living Rosary will host a table dedicated to sharing the Rosary at every Mass. There are free Rosaries to take, new cases to hold them and coloring pictures for the little ones. Last October as the weekend finally closed, we had given out over 50 rosaries and were down last ones. I stepped away from the table for a moment and there, when I returned, was a bag chock full of new rosaries that someone had donated. A new supply for the next round. Once we welcome Mary into our lives, she nudges us to be better Catholics and provides signs to lead us along the way. Our job is to listen, pray and let it happen.

So, come and visit our table this fall, over the weekend of October 22nd and 23rd. We will be in the narthex with all things about the Rosary. If you have a broken rosary, bring it in for repairs. If you have one to share, bring it in. If you want to know more about praying the Rosary at St. Cletus, stop by. The Living Rosary welcomes all who would like to say one assigned decade of the rosary each day, so that together fifteen members say an entire rosary each day. This prayer group has been active in our parish for 20 years and will meet on Sunday, October 30th at 12:15 in the Kindergarten room to pray the rosary together. Come and join us and see how Mary begins to work in your heart and your life.

Questions? Call Mary Lu Gebka at 579-3987
