FR. BOB'S UTTERINGS

Ascension of the Lord

The feast of the Ascension of the Lord is not just a story of Jesus being lifted higher and higher above this planet filled with sinful people. Rather it is the story of a Jesus who is revealed as the Christ, who reigns over the universe, whose vision is so much more than ours, not because he lives higher and sees all but because he lives in all and so transforms all. And so we, as sinful as we are, are sent out by him and empowered by him simply because he is with us as he promised he would be.

 New Parish Shrine "Madonna Della Estrada" ***

I am so pleased to announce the addition of a new shrine for our parish. The former parish baptistery in the back of our church will become the new home of a shrine dedicated to the wonderful outreach that St. Cletus Parishioners have always had in helping those in need. The statue of the Madonna Della Estrada with children in color will be placed in front of the stained glass windows. This area will be a place for prayer and reflection regarding our parish commitment to our food pantry, giving trees, and outreach programs. Over the next couple of months you will notice new bins for our food collections, a kneeler for prayer, and vigil lights.

The entire cost of the new shrine will be paid for through individual donations. Anyone wishing to contribute a gift may contact the rectory. Additionally, those who make a donation of $500 or more in their name or in the name of a loved one will be inscribed on a plaque which will be placed in the shrine area.

It is our hope to be able to complete the shrine and schedule its' blessing and dedication by early August of this year. This will be one more outward sign of the generosity and commitment of the people of St. Cletus Parish to care for all of God's children.

May God Bless Each of You Always, Fr. Bob

Sunday, May 20, 2007 - Seventh Sunday of Easter A prayer for unity

On the night before he dies, Jesus talks to his Father about their unity. Though he is already one with his Father and will soon be with him, he wants more. He says, "I want those you have given me to be with me where I am." Christ also wants us with him, in him, and in the Father as well. The Passion and death he endures is for our unity, not his. And he wants this unity for one thing alone: so that we may know the love of his Father that he knows so well. For Jesus, love makes all of his pain and suffering worthwhile. What steps can you take to acknowledge this freely given sacrifice made for your sake?

Today's readings: Acts of the Apostles 7:55-60; Revelation 22:12-14, 16-17, 20; John 17:20-26

"The glory that you have given me I have given them, so that they may be one, as we are one."

Monday, May 21

Feast of Saint Cristóbal Magallanes Jara, priest, Martyr, and Companions, Martyrs

Following the Good Shepherd to the end

Cristóbal worked as a shepherd on his family's farm in rural Mexico before entering the seminary. As a parish priest, he helped found schools, a newspaper, catechism centers for children and adults, carpentry shops, and an electric generating plant. He worked with the indigenous people of the region to form agrarian cooperatives, inspired by the social teachings in the 1891 papal encyclical, Rerum Novarum. When Catholics rose up against an anticlerical government in the 1920s, he wrote and preached against armed rebellion but was nevertheless arrested and condemned to die. He gave his few possessions to his executioners with these final words: "I forgive with all my heart those responsible for my death, and I ask God that the shedding of my blood serves toward the peace of our divided Mexico."

Today's readings: Acts of the Apostles 19:1-8; John 16:29-33 "In the world you face persecution. But take courage; I have conquered the world!"

Tuesday, May 22 Easter weekday Have you finished your work?

The approaching Pentecost is a good time to reflect on Jesus' journey on earth as well as our own. It is a time to think about what we've accomplished and reflect on what we will be leaving others after we've gone. Jesus was confident that he had finished the work he was commissioned to do. Can each of us say the same? What will your legacy be? In what ways have you glorified God during your tenure on earth? Take into account family, community, church, and the world. Are you satisfied with the part you've played in bringing God's message of hope and love to the least of your brothers and sisters? There's still time. There is this moment, and the next, and the next....

Today's readings: Acts of the Apostles 20:17-27; John 17:1-11a "I glorified you on earth by finishing the work that you gave me to do."

Wednesday, May 23 Easter weekday

True or false

Truth has been taking quite a beating lately. While many of us have probably been willing to accept a certain amount of falsity in politics, business, and other areas of society, these days falsehood has gone beyond covering up what's going on to creating false realities. If you say it's so, the rationale runs, it's so. Bankrupt businesses look hugely profitable on paper. Political candidates smear one another to create an impression long enough to win an election. Some public figures around the world routinely lie in order pursue their goals. Denial has become reality.

People of faith believe the source of truth is in God, though we have to be careful how we apply that truth. The best place to start rebuilding a culture of truth is you. Try to have a completely truthful day today.

Today's readings: Acts of the Apostles 20:28-38; John 17:11b-19

"Sanctify them in the truth; your word is truth."

Thursday, May 24 Weekday

Love is all you need

"We believe in one, holy, catholic, and apostolic church." One church: That means a church in which we are one, with God, with each other. We have a set of beliefs and a way of worshipping we hold in common. Unity also comes from love. If we love one another in the love God has for us, we will be one. Only if we love will the church be able to make a difference in the world. Only in our lives will others be able to see the love God has for the world—that God's love dwells in us as it does in Jesus. Love one another.

Today's readings: Acts of the Apostles 22:30; 23:6-11; John 17:20-26 - "I made your name known to them, so that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them."

Friday, May 25 Feast of Bede the Venerable, priest, doctor Wise guy

Bede the Venerable was the embodiment of the lifelong learner. In his own words, "I ever took delight in learning and teaching and writing." Apart from his many theological works and scriptural commentaries, he wrote on subjects as varied as history, music, arithmetic, medicine, and science. Living in the so-called "Dark Ages," Bede's influence was so great that a century later a Swiss monk would write, "God... who raised the Sun from the East on the fourth day of Creation, in the sixth day of the world has made Bede rise from the West as a new Sun to illuminate the whole Earth." Bede's example can inspire each of us to continue our own lifelong learning. Picked up a good book lately?

Today's readings: Acts of the Apostles 25:13b-21; John 21:15-19 "Lord, you know everything; you know that I love you."

Saturday, May 26 - Feast of Philip Neri, priest A man of good cheer

After an intense period of study, Saint Philip Neri saw in a vision that his mission was in the streets of Rome. So he planted himself amid the bustle of public squares and drew people out of their apathy with friendly humor and discourse. Once engaged he would eventually ask: "Well, brothers, when shall we begin to do good?" And then he'd lead the crowd to service among the sick and poor of Rome. Despite great demands on his time by the thousands who sought his counsel over the years, Neri was known to be ever cordial and welcoming.

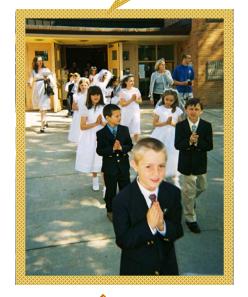

"Cheerfulness," he said, "strengthens the heart and makes us persevere in a good life. Therefore the servant of God ought always to be in good spirits." Keep smiling!

Today's readings: Acts of the Apostles 28:16-20, 30-31; John 21:20-25 "If every one of the things that Jesus did were written down, I suppose the world itself could not contain the books that would be written."

Food Pantry

THANK YOU! to the parishioners of St. Cletus, who always come through to help us replenish the shelves in our Food Pantry. Because of your generosity, we were able to help 105 families in the May food distribution. Please continue to make it part of your routine to pick up some items for the Food Pantry when you do your weekly grocery shopping. Several reminders:

- During the summer months our food donations fall off somewhat because of people on vacation, etc. However, our need remains constant.
- All non-perishables are greatly appreciated, especially our staples: Dried pinto beans, rice, peanut butter & jelly, canned fruit & vegetables, soups, meals in a can, pasta & pasta sauce, tuna and cereal.
- Each month we have a "specials table" where we have extra items from which our clients choose a couple of things. Some favorites include coffee, cooking oil, oatmeal, juice or soft drinks, crackers or cookies, diapers, toiletries, laundry detergent and dish washing soap. (Usually one of these extra items is also put in each pre-packed family bag.)
- Remember to check expiration dates to avoid out of date goods which we cannot use.
- These items can be dropped off in the church vestibule on the tables or bins now provided in the former baptistery.

The Food Pantry distributes groceries from the vestibule of the Church on the second Thursday of each month, from 6:30-8:00 PM. Our next distribution is on June 14.
