- Saturday: Blessed Virgin Mary; First Saturday

Notes from Father Bob...

Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The first reading sees the path of goodness as the following of the Law given by God: "I set before you today a blessing and a curse: a blessing, if you obey the commandments of the Lord our God that I enjoin on you today; a curse, if you disobey the commandments of the Lord your God and leave the way I have marked out for you" (Deuteronomy 11:26). That seems pretty clear, but in the second reading Paul tells us that, "both Jew and pagan sinned and forfeited God's glory" (Romans 3:22). None of us has the necessary qualifications and experience to be good.

Fortunately the good news is that serving God does not depend upon our qualifications and experience. The only qualification for being just in God's eyes is that he loves us and that Jesus died for us. Paul tells us that we are "justified through the free gift of his grace by being redeemed in Christ Jesus who was appointed by God to sacrifice his life so as to win reconciliation through faith" (Romans 3:23). This does not mean that we do not have to change our lives however. God loves me just the way I am but he does not leave me the way I am. Being justified means being changed into a person whose life is based on the solid teaching given by Christ.

In today's Gospel Jesus insists on real change: "It is not those who say to me, 'Lord, Lord', who will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the person who does the will of my Father in heaven" (Matthew 7:21). We need to build our lives on the firm foundation of his teaching if our lives are to be changed: "everyone who listens to these words of mine and acts on them will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock" (Matthew 7:24). Listening or not listening to the words of Jesus is a matter of choice, a matter of life and death.

It is quite easy to love a mental image of Jesus, something based on a picture or a statue we have seen. That is not enough. Calling out "Lord, Lord," is not enough. We need to be sure that we love the REAL Jesus. If we are going to love the REAL Jesus and not the Jesus of our own imagination we need to be made and re-made through listening to his words and following his teaching.

If we try to apply this truth to our lives in a practical way we might start by reading the Gospels seriously and thinking about how to live according to the teachings of Jesus that we find in them. If that is too difficult we could simply try to set aside a few minutes each week to think about the Sunday Gospel and ask ourselves some key questions. I could ask whether I have really accepted the values that Jesus teaches. I could ask whether they influence the way I treat others, my choices about the use of my time or maybe my choice of career. I can ask whether his teaching really influences my political ideas and social attitudes. If they do, then I am like a person whose house is built upon a rock. Nothing can shake me because I know just whose disciple I am!

ST. CLETUS SCHOOL GRADUATION

It is with the greatest pride that I announce that 38 of our young men and women will receive diplomas this afternoon. We will have a special liturgy at 12:30 pm to thank God for their years with us here at St. Cletus School. The entire parish community shares with joy in offering congratulations to the class of 2008 and wish them the greatest success as they continue their academic endeavors in high school.

It is our prayer and our hope that they will take the lessons that they have learned about faith and family with them wherever they go. Please know that you always have a home here at St. Cletus Parish and that our thoughts and prayers are with you always.

Blessings in Abundance to All Our Graduates, Father Bob

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time.

NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Words indeed

To do something well, it helps to believe in what you're doing. To think what you're doing is meaningful usually contributes to doing it better. The other side of the coin is acting on what you believe—making what is paramount in your life the center of your actions. This way of going about things applies to the most important task of all, living your faith. Believe in what you do, and do what you believe, and you will be on solid ground.

TODAY'S READINGS: Deuteronomy 11:18, 26-28, 32; Romans 3:21-25, 28; Matthew 7:21-27

"Everyone then who hears these words of mine and acts on them will be like a wise man who built his house on rock."

MONDAY, JUNE 2

FEAST OF MARCELLINUS AND PETER, MARTYRS

Built with living stones

As we sit on padded pews in air-conditioned churches, it's challenging to imagine that faith in Jesus was ever a life-threatening decision. But for the first several centuries, Christianity was both a creed and a death sentence to those who embraced it. So Marcellinus the priest and Peter the exorcist went to their deaths in the year 304 in Rome. Poems were written about them; their relics were preserved; miracles were reported concerning them; and a church was built over their catacombs. The church we belong to today was built with living stones. Share their boldness and their witness!

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Peter 1:2-7; Mark 12:1-12

"The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone."

TUESDAY, JUNE 3

FEAST OF CHARLES LWANGA AND COMPANIONS, MARTYRS

Just say no

People in power have been known to overstep their bounds and ask for more than is their rightful due. Such demands rarely turn out well—at least in the short run—for anyone who refuses the unfair request. Case in point: Charles Lwanga and hundreds of other Ugandan teens who were tortured and executed in the 19th century after their chieftain grew jealous of their devotion to Christianity and ordered them to denounce their faith. As the young men burned in a massive pyre, their torturers were assured of their victims' deaths only when the martyrs stopped praying. Pray for the spiritual gifts of fortitude and piety when you are asked to do something you know would mean giving to others what is rightfully yours—and God's.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Peter 3:12-15a, 17-18; Mark 12:13-17

"Give to the emperor the things that are the emperor's, and to God the things that are God's."

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4

Imposition of hands

As the early church began the transition from its first generation into the next, the apostles took great care that the "sound words" and actions of the faith would remain continuous and unified. We see this concern for unity in the pastoral letters written in the name of Saint Paul. Paul tells Timothy that his obligation to the true teachings of Christ as well as the grace of God to speak them is the result of the "imposition of my hands." This special gift of authority, which is given sacramentally by God through the earthly imposition of hands, serves as a guarantee of unity through the successive generations. Authority is not, then, a gift one can give to oneself. Consider all the impositions of hands that have come down through the centuries.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Timothy 1:1-3, 6-12; Mark 12:18-27

"God did not give us a spirit of cowardice, but rather a spirit of power and of love and of self-discipline."

THURSDAY, JUNE 5

FEAST OF BONIFACE, BISHOP, MARTYR

Don't miss God's bus

Have you ever just missed catching a bus? You don't have to miss it by much. It gives you an idea of what Jesus meant when he said a scribe was "not far" from the kingdom of God. Imagine yourself ending up "not far" from God's kingdom. It would be like missing a bus by just a few seconds. In this case, a miss is as good as a mile. Making the kingdom is more than knowing the Bible and getting religion right. It's knowing Christ and living in his love. Saint Boniface sacrificed everything for the sake of the kingdom. What will you sacrifice today?

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Timothy 2:8-15; Mark 12:28-34

"When Jesus saw that (he) answered with understanding, he said to him, 'You are not far from the kingdom of God.'"

FRIDAY, JUNE 6

Like it says in the Bible

While all scripture may be useful for teaching, correction, and training, scripture can also be abused if used as a collection of proof-text arrows to aim at whomever one's antagonist might be. Witness justifying slavery with Exodus 21:20-21, or Leviticus 18:22 to support homophobia. One who merely tosses quotations about has not looked beneath the word surface but uses select (and sometimes mistranslated) texts to justify a prevailing prejudice. Timothy encourages the use of scripture to equip us "for every good work," not for attack. Our culture is accustomed to headlines and sound bites, but a serious faith requires us to constantly deepen our understanding of both God and our world. We did not learn everything we need to know about our faith in kindergarten, or in CCD.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Timothy 3:10-17; Mark 12:35-37

"All scripture is inspired by God and is useful . . . so that one who belongs to God may be competent, equipped for every good work."

SATURDAY, JUNE 7 - How to make a fortune with a penny

Alchemy was an ancient practice, part science and part philosophy, which aimed to create gold from lesser metals, discover a universal cure for disease, and, while they were at it, indefinitely prolong life. The fact that it didn't work never prevented anyone from attempting it. But there is a spiritual alchemy that gains an eternal kingdom for the price of a penny. The widow in the gospel story practiced transformation successfully, according to Jesus. Mary of Nazareth gained the same kingdom at the price of her "yes." Want a kingdom? One word is all it takes.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Timothy 4:1-8; Mark 12:38-44

"A poor widow came and put in two small copper coins, which are worth a penny."

A DEVELOPMENT UPDATE

ST. CLETUS PARISH

May 2008

CONVOCAATION IS A HUGE SUCCESS!

On Sunday, March 9, 2008, over 150 parishioners participated in a parish-wide Convocation that was hosted by the Parish Pastoral Council. The Convocation began with an opening prayer by Father Bob Clark; this was followed by an explanation of the history of the development process from Ann Raush with the Institute of School and Parish Development (ISPD). All attendees were then divided into small groups facilitated by Parish Pastoral Council members. Small group discussions took place on the 50 Challenges that have surfaced in the planning process, with parishioners offering ways to solve the Challenges, and also indicating which ones were the most important.

Parishioners were also invited to fill in input sheets, indicate their interest in helping implement key strategies to solve the Challenges, and circle the five Challenges they would like to see addressed first.

TOP PRIORITIES

After working in the small groups, parishioners assembled back together in order to multi-vote on the 50 Challenges. After reviewing the list, they determined their five most important Challenges. Below are the five Challenges parishioners suggested we need to address first:

- E-1: How do we get the teens committed to a youth program in which they will take ownership?
- J-5: How can we ensure that St. Cletus offers activities and programs for all age groups?
- D-1: How can we get more parishioner involvement in the Social Concerns Ministry?

TOP CHALLENGES CONTINUED...

- I-1: How can we ensure that our financial planning, spending and priorities reflect and support the mission of the parish and money is spent effectively and efficiently?
- I-4: How can we ensure accountability and transparency with our parishioners' money including regular two-way communication with parishioners (quarterly reports versus annual reports)?

THANK YOU!

Many thanks go to these parishioners for their committed leadership in guiding our planning effort over the past year.

FAITH FAMILY FUTURE

Dear Friends in Christ,

On the weekend of June 7/8, 2008, we will begin the first special collection for the Retired Priests of the Archdiocese.

You may be aware that the December collection for Retired Religious is designated to provide only for Religious Orders. Archdiocesan priests do not receive any funds from this collection. Our retired priests who administer parishes have given new life to many communities. Your generosity and your prayers are a great affirmation of the work of our retired priests. You are in my prayers; please keep me in yours.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Francis Cardinal George, O.M.I.
Archbishop of Chicago

Stewardship

We all invest so much time, energy and resources into building our material home. Yet, it is not our permanent home. Our true home will be with God someday. Do we spend time, talent and treasure to build a strong foundation for our heavenly home? Or do we only put our efforts into an earthly home, which will be blown away like sand.

*This is what the Lord asks of you:
To live justly, to love tenderly,
to walk humbly with your God.
Micah 6:8*
