FIRST SUNDAY OF ADVENT ACTIVE WAITING

As this new liturgical year unfolds, today's readings are most appropriate, for they root us in what it means to live authentically as Christians. The Gospel, with its frightening predictions of the end times, invites the hearer to "be vigilant at all times" (Luke 21:36). This kind of vigilance is not at all passive for the Christian. Instead, it is a kind of active waiting. And what should we be doing while we are waiting for the coming of the Lord? The second reading gives us the answer: "abound in love for one another and for all" (1 Thessalonians 3:12). Today is all about promises made and fulfilled. May this Advent season root us all firmly in a stance of active waiting for the Lord, who brings justice and peace.

How good are you at reading signs? The people of Jesus' time expected that the coming of the Messiah would be accompanied by extraordinary signs and wonders. Jesus' first coming was clouded in mystery and wonderment: a son of David born in a cave at Bethlehem; magi from the East guided by a star to worship the newborn king of Israel; a carpenter miracle-worker who gave sight to the blind and raised the dead; a Suffering Servant who bore the sins of many upon a cross; a Risen Lord who stormed the gates of Hell to release its captives. Jesus on a number of occasions prophesied that he would return again at the end of the world to finish the work he came to accomplish through his death and resurrection. The image of a "Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory" is taken from a vision which God gave to the prophet Daniel (Daniel 7:13-14). God showed Daniel a royal investiture of a human king before God's throne. This king was invested with God's authority and was given rulership over the whole earth. His reign would last for all ages. The Jews of Jesus' day were looking for a Messianic king who would free them from foreign oppression. Jesus is both Son of David – the rightful heir and King of Israel who will rule forever – and the Son of man – God's appointed ruler who will establish a universal kingdom of peace, righteousness, and justice for all the nations and peoples of the earth.

The Lord Jesus gives us the gift of hope – the supernatural strength and perseverance to remain steadfast and confident in God's promise. What can we confidently expect from God? He promises us the hope of heaven, everlasting life, peace, and joy with the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. He also promises to right every wrong, to vindicate all who have been treated unjustly, to remove every tear, sorrow, and pain, including death itself (Revelations 21:4). The world around us is plagued with fear, uncertainty, greed, selfishness, strife, and division. It has lost hope in God and in his promise to restore the human race and creation itself through the second coming of his Son Jesus Christ. The prophet Jeremiah foretold the day when God would send his Messiah King to "execute justice and righteousness in the land" (Jeremiah 33:15). Jesus is the fulfillment of this promise and every promise God has made.

THE THREE COMINGS OF ADVENT

There are three distinct comings of the Lord of which I know, His coming to humankind, His coming into humankind, and His coming against humankind.

Third Sermon for Advent

—St. Bernard:

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 2009

FIRST SUNDAY OF ADVENT

It will work out in the end

If apocalyptic literature in the Bible has not sparked trepidation over what may happen to our fragile planet and our fragile selves, then certainly science fiction films and hokey TV dramatizations of the “predictions” of Nostradamus will do it. Unlike such shows, the early Advent imagery of the heavens and earth passing away are not intended to scare us but rather to encourage us, to assure us that “when these signs begin to happen,” whether inconsolable grief at a personal loss or some cataclysm that shakes the whole planet, our redemption is secure. Your place in the hands of God cannot be shaken.

TODAY’S READINGS: Jeremiah 33:14-16; 1 Thessalonians 3:12-4:2; Luke 21:25-28, 34-36

“Your redemption is drawing near.”

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 30

FEAST OF ANDREW, APOSTLE

He was in Scotland afore ye

For nearly 1,000 years Saint Andrew, the “first called” of the apostles, has been Scotland’s patron saint, and the Saltire or “Saint Andrew’s Cross,” an X-shaped cross—which Andrew is said to have been martyred on—is represented on the nation’s flag. Traditions abound as to how exactly Scotland’s special connection with Andrew came about. One claims the saint’s relics were brought from Constantinople to Scotland under divine guidance. Another says that during a battle with the English the Scottish king saw a cloud shaped like a Saltire and declared that Andrew was watching over his troops. Whatever the case, rest assured today is a big day for the Scottish—and for all of us who wish to imitate Andrew and follow Jesus in our own lives.

TODAY’S READINGS: Romans 10:9-18; Matthew 4:18-22

“Immediately they left their nets and followed him.”

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1

All has been revealed

Christians are pretty lucky in a way, because we really believe we have what we need to know. God is not holding back some important piece of information. It’s there for all to see and understand. “Religious truths,” the Second Vatican Council’s document on revelation said, “. . . can be known by all men with ease, with solid certitude.” And one form of revelation, scripture, the council said, “must be acknowledged as teaching solidly, faithfully, and without error that truth which God wanted put into sacred writings for the sake of salvation.” That means we have what we need to know, and we can know it, and we can trust it. All we have to do is make the effort.

TODAY’S READINGS: Isaiah 11:1-10; Luke 10:21-24

“Blessed are the eyes that see what you see!”

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 2

Working for your supper

The story of the multiplication of the loaves and fish is surely the best known of the miracle stories of Jesus. It’s the only such story recorded in all four gospels. In each of the synoptic gospels Jesus puts the disciples to work. First they have to find some food, then Jesus blesses it, then they distribute it to the crowd. This seemingly insignificant detail reminds us of a very important but often forgotten fact: We are co-creators with God, and we must help answer our own prayer. What prayer are you waiting on today? What might you do to help bring it about?

TODAY’S READINGS: Isaiah 25:6-10a; Matthew 15:29-37

“He took the seven loaves and the fish; and after giving thanks he broke them and gave them to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowds.”

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3

FEAST OF FRANCIS XAVIER, PRIEST

Dress to impress

One of the founding members of the Jesuits, Saint Francis Xavier (1506-1552) is considered to have been one of the greatest missionaries since the apostles. Appointed to re-evangelize portions of the Far East, Francis placed himself with the lowest castes, preaching to the sick and dying at hospitals and orphans and slaves in the street. He understood that, were the fire of Christianity to spread through the East, the kindling must begin at the base of society. Rather than arriving like a royal ambassador, Francis clothed himself with rags and made his home in the lowliest shelters. His example shows us how humble appearances can be the greatest tool for bringing the message of Christ to others.

TODAY’S READINGS: Isaiah 26:1-6; Matthew 7:21, 24-27

“The lofty city he lays low. . . . The foot tramples it, the feet of the poor, the steps of the needy.”

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4

FEAST OF JOHN OF DAMASCUS, PRIEST, DOCTOR OF THE CHURCH

The pirates of God

A wise old monk was captured by Arab pirates during a raid on Sicily. He was carried off to Damascus where he was made a teacher. One of his students was John, our saint of the day. Even in the Islamic world of eighth-century Syria, John secretly learned his Christian faith from the old monk. The young man eventually became a priest and a doctor of the church. Like the blind men whose sightless path providentially crossed that of Jesus, Saint John and the church ultimately benefitted from a pirate raid, demonstrating once again that God makes all things work together for good.

TODAY’S READINGS: Isaiah 29:17-24; Matthew 9:27-31

“As Jesus went on from there, two blind men followed him, crying loudly, ‘Have mercy on us, Son of David!’ ”

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5

The kingdom has you covered

As Jesus sent out the 12 apostles after empowering them to proclaim God’s kingdom and heal the sick, he admonished them not to charge for their services: “You received without payment; give without payment.” As the nation struggles with difficult questions of health-care coverage, government assistance, Medicare, private insurance, and the like, it is good to take a step back from the heat of the debate and look at larger principles. While it may not be possible today to offer health care to all without cost, we do well to remember that for Jesus such care was a way of proclaiming and reflecting the kingdom of God.

TODAY’S READINGS: Isaiah 30:19-21, 23-26; Matthew 9:35-10:1, 5a, 6-8

“Jesus . . . gave them authority . . . to cure every disease and every sickness.”

Catholics Come Home Begins in Advent

This Advent the Archdiocese of Chicago will partner with the dioceses of Joliet and Rockford on an evangelization initiative call Catholics Come Home. This effort will use TV commercials that will air December 16 to January 24, 2010 on 10 major networks in English, Spanish and Polish. We encourage our parishioners to pray for those who have left the Church and invite them to join us at St. Cletus. Parishioners can pick up a brochure to be used as an invitation for those who have drifted from the practice of the faith. We lovingly invite all those who have drifted away, to come home, to find healing, answers and support.

"APPROACHING ADVENT IN PRAYER"

TAIZÉ PRAYER

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 2009

7:00 P. M. - IN CHURCH

ENTER ADVENT IN PEACE

SONG - SCRIPTURE - SILENCE

ALL ARE WELCOME

Taizé prayer is a gathering of people using music, scripture, prayer, and silent reflection to pray for peace and reconciliation in our world.

It originated in Taizé, France after World War II, by the late Brother Roger who saw a need for forgiveness and healing. It has steadily grown throughout the world as that need is ever more evident. Thousands of young people gather in Taizé weekly recognizing the power of this community prayer. Please come and experience the peace of this prayer. It is a beautiful way to begin Advent and set our Christmas preparations in the right direction.
