NOTES FROM FATHER BOB...

FEAST OF THE HOLY TRINITY

Today we celebrate the most astonishing, mind-bending truth of all: that though there is and can be only one God, yet in this one God are three persons. We could never have known that, had it not been revealed through Jesus. In the Gospel he speaks of himself as the Son, sent into the world by the Father, and at the end of his earthly life, he will reveal that the Holy Spirit is to be poured out upon us as joint gift of Father and Son.

God is mystery; the words we use about him are true as far as they go; but they are always inadequate. So we speak of three persons in one God. They are not persons in just the same way that you and I are. And yet it's right to speak of them as persons because, like you and I, Father, Son and Holy Spirit are distinct from each other and relate to each other. As today's Gospel says, "God loved the world so much that he gave his only Son"; and when the Son dies in anguish on a Cross, we catch a startling glimpse of just how real that love is. It reveals how the divine Three embrace all humankind.

Today's second reading ends with a well-known Trinitarian blessing: "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit." It's a particular moving prayer, because it was originally addressed to a group of very ordinary people, many of them slaves or ex-slaves in the big, bustling, cosmopolitan city of Corinth. In begging them to love each other, Paul has no difficulty in appealing to the mystery of the Trinity; for that mighty mystery is not some vague, bewildering truth without relevance to daily living. On the contrary, Paul suggests that the loving union between the three Divine Persons should inspire us to live together in unity and love. Our God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, dwells within us, a "God of tenderness and compassion," as the first reading called him. And we are called to reflect some of that God-like love in our dealings with each other.

Here at Mass the Blessed Trinity is at the heart of what we do, for here—in, with and through Christ and in the power of the Holy Spirit—we tiny creatures are enabled to give all honor and glory to the Father. That is why the Mass, the most Trinitarian of services, has been called the summit and the source of all the week's activities. It is the sacrament, the visible and effective sign, of that three-person love which has been revealed to us as the mystery of the Blessed Trinity.

"HAPPY FATHER'S DAY, MEN OF ST. CLETUS"

I would like to take this opportunity to wish a very special blessing on all the fathers, grandfathers, and godfathers of our parish community. On this Feast of the Holy Trinity when we recognize the unique relationship of our one true God as three persons in one, we are reminded about the important relationship of all fathers in our lives.

This is a day to reflect on the very special role that our fathers, grandfathers, and godfathers play in each of our lives. They are the first teachers for our children in the faith; they are role models; they are providers; they are friends; they are inspirational; they are protectors; and they are a reflection of God's love in our lives.

We thank you, DADS, on this special day set aside just for you. You are in our thoughts and prayers today and always. May God watch over each of you and keep you in His loving care. We are thankful for the gift that each of you is to this faith community.

Have a restful, joy-filled day!

Blessings of the Holy Trinity,

Father Bob

SOLEMNITY OF THE MOST HOLY TRINITY; FATHER'S DAY

A word of advice for fathers and children

Fathers come in all shapes and sizes; some are strict, others lenient; some are very present in the lives of their children, others absent; some have left inspiring legacies for their children; others have left scars; some mean well, others do well. Children and fathers expect a lot from each other. Fathers: Do your best to make yourself known to your children; above all be kind and merciful to your sons and daughters. Children: Do your best to embrace the life given to you; above all be understanding and forgiving of your father's shortcomings.

TODAY'S READINGS: Exodus 34:4b-6, 8-9; 2 Corinthians 13:11-13; John 3:16-18 (164)

"The LORD, the LORD, a merciful and gracious God, slow to anger and rich in kindness and fidelity."

MONDAY, JUNE 20

WORLD REFUGEE DAY - Welcome the stranger

World Refugee Day is hard to "celebrate" because the situation of refugees—the conditions that led them to flee their homelands and the hardships they face in exile—is anything but good. As we honor this day, let us take seriously the words of United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, António Guterres: "On this World Refugee Day, I ask you to help us help refugees find a place to call home." How can your family or parish or workplace tend to the plight of refugees? How might you partner with the U.N.'s agency on refugees, Catholic Charities, or other organizations that help refugees? How can you be a person of hospitality to those who may spiritually or physically be at a loss for a place to call home?

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 12:1-9; Matthew 7:1-5 (371)

"Abram took his wife, Sarai, his brother's son Lot . . . and they set out for the land of Canaan."

TUESDAY, JUNE 21

FEAST OF ALOYSIUS GONZAGA, RELIGIOUS

No time like the present

Later in life a man recalled with fondness his last year at a Jesuit university when he lived in a student community named Gonzaga Hall. While not strictly religious or a house of formation, the community offered students many opportunities for spiritual development and faith-sharing. Curious to know more about the saint behind the name, the man learned that the 16th-century Italian Jesuit who impressed so many by his sanctity had died at the tender age of 23—the same age at which the man graduated from Gonzaga Hall. We tend to take longevity for granted, when it is in fact a great gift. But keep in mind the saying: "From those to whom much has been given, much is expected." Make the most of your time and leave a legacy for the ages.

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 13:2, 5-18; Matthew 7:6, 12-14 (372)

"Enter through the narrow gate . . . those who find it are few."

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22

Follow the leader?

It's an unfortunate fact of modern life that it's difficult to trust those in leadership. It is now clear that some of our leaders resort to deception and concealment of what's really going on to further their own ends or those of the institutions they represent. The biblical tradition, however, offers a reliable guide to tell whether what we're being told is the real deal. Do leaders actually end up doing what they say they were going to do? Do people get to a better place because they followed a particular leader? It may take some time, but outcomes always reveal true intentions. Place your trust in leaders who actually deserve it.

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 15:1-12, 17-18; Matthew 7:15-20 (373) - "By their fruits you will know them."

THURSDAY, JUNE 23

Who are your authority figures?

A how-to website boasts: "You need not be an expert on anything to speak with authority. All you need is a great attitude, friendly demeanor, and a strong voice." We might wonder if Jesus knew the drill when at the end of his Sermon on the Mount the crowds were amazed because he spoke with authority. Jesus' authority did not come from a personal coach or because he could work a crowd, nor did it come only from an ability to cite the great spiritual masters of his people. It came from within, from his relationship with God. Our inner authority should come from the same place, but it's easy to give over that authority to an attractive face, friendly demeanor, or a loud voice. Listen to your heart before you attempt to speak with authority or allow others to do so on your behalf.

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 16:1-12, 15-16 or 16:6b-12, 15-16; Matthew 7:21-29 (374)

"The crowds were astonished at his teaching, for he taught them as one having authority."

FRIDAY, JUNE 24

SOLEMNITY OF THE NATIVITY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

What's in a name?

In the Rite of Baptism the first question the priest or deacon asks is: "What name do you give this child?" At first glance this seems like a superficial question; a way to get the ball rolling as it were. But like all the elements of the sacrament of Baptism, there is more here than meets the eye. To give someone or something a name is a powerful act. As God named each part of creation as it was brought into being, so do we. Take some time today to think about the story of your name. Whom were you named after? What qualities did the person have that your parents may have wished for you?

TODAY'S READINGS: Isaiah 49:1-6; Acts 13:22-26; Luke 1:57-66, 80 (587)

"The Lord called me from birth, from my mother's womb he gave me my name."

SATURDAY, JUNE 25

FEAST OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

Little stories can have big consequences

The house was small, so small you could see through it at a glance. An older woman lay on a pallet off the main room. It was not convenient to have her there; it was even less convenient that a pair of useful hands was out of service in the household. Peter's wife needed her mother to help with the chores, the children—especially with Peter gone so much. If she was lost to this fever, as the elderly often were, it would be even worse. Jesus took all of this in at a glance. Everywhere Jesus goes, a little story of need emerges. If invited in, he always reaches out his hand.

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 18:1-15; Matthew 8:5-17 (376)

"Jesus entered the house of Peter, and saw his mother-in-law lying in bed with a fever."

Parish Pioneers Invited to Share Memories of Early Days at St. Cletus

CHESTER AND IRENE WOJCIK SHARE THEIR MEMORIES

St. Cletus "always had good priests," recalled Irene Wojcik. Irene and her husband, Chester, have been parishioners since the 1950's.

The wise pastors through the years sought out the advice and expertise of parishioners. Chester was part of the Maintenance Committee, which helped solve issues with the two main buildings—school and church. Others who served as advisers on maintenance issues were Pete Ference, Bob Callaghan, and locksmith Rich Fulmer, among others.

Ramps were added to sidewalks so the buildings became more easily accessible to the handicapped, Chester remembered. Electrical and plumbing issues were addressed, and a boiler that served to heat both buildings was updated with a more modern device.

A school custodian who at first spoke little English, found Chester to be both a friend and helpful translator. Irene also helped a rectory employee with quick translations that brought her up-to-speed on vital English words like bacon, eggs, toast, and coffee. She already was a good cook, but just needed the English vocabulary to help the priests in the rectory.

Attending our daily Mass at 8:00 a.m. is a beautiful experience for the Wojciks and the other regular worshippers. Irene has been going to daily Mass at St. Cletus for more than 30 years, and Chester joined the regulars once he retired from work. "The people at Mass are like a family; they are really sincere friends who have a genuine interest in each other," Irene said.

Both of their sons attended St. Cletus School, graduated from LT, and went to college. One son lives in Naperville and his brother is in California

Both Irene and Chester are looking forward to the upcoming big July 3-4 celebrations. The parish's 60th anniversary outdoor Mass, band concert, and picnic are on Sunday, July 3. The annual Independence Day July 4th Mass, sponsored by the Holy Name Society since 1976, will be at 8:00 a.m. These are big events in the lives of these parish pioneers as well as the rest of us.

Chester and Irene Wojcik are active members of our parish and its organizations.

Please Note: Leisure Loafers will have their annual picnic on July 7, in Denning Park. Members are invited to contact Alice Katzmarek, president, if they intend to attend the annual event.

FOOD PANTRY UPDATE

Our client families frequently ask me to convey their deep appreciation to you, the parishioners of St. Cletus, for continuing to help them out, as they struggle to pay bills and feed their families, especially in these tough times that affect us all. THANK YOU!!!

As our volunteers prepare for the July 14 food distribution, please help by continuing to make it routine to pick up some items for the Food Pantry when you do your weekly grocery shopping. The most needed staples at this time include pasta sauce, 2# bags of dry pinto beans, and boxed side dishes (i.e. instant potatoes, noodles with sauce packets, seasoned rice packets, hamburger helper, etc.). Our supply of extra items is very low. Suggested items are crackers, snack treats, juice, coffee, baby formula and diapers, especially size 4-5-6. We could also use some full-size brown grocery bags. As always, we greatly appreciate all donations of any in-date, non-perishable. Thanks again for your part in keeping this ministry alive and strong at St. Cletus!

JOPLIN, MO RELIEF

On behalf of those Joplin residents struggling to rebuild their homes and their lives, THANK YOU for your most generous response to our special second collection. Next weekend our diocese will take up the PETER'S PENCE COLLECTION, which provides the Holy Father with the funds he needs to carry out his most important charitable works. The proceeds benefit the most disadvantaged: victims of war, oppression, and natural disasters. Through your generosity, we can cast the peace of Christ upon the world. Envelopes are available in the pews.
