NOTES FROM FATHER BOB...

PALM SUNDAY 2014

It was a quiet Sunday morning. Orange juice and coffee were on the kitchen table. The kitchen, itself, was dark and secluded, being situated on the far side of the house, away from the rising sun. Outside, the day was bright and sunny, with a clear sky, but in the kitchen there was nothing to disturb the early morning shadows. In the cool darkness a man sat sipping his juice, slowly waking up to the day. Suddenly a blazing light burst into the room and blinded the seated figure. The light was so bright that the man could see nothing at all. What had happened? Where had this light come from? How had it penetrated his inner sanctum of darkness and cool?

As he turned to face the light, the answer to all his questions became clear. The sun in the east was shining on the window of a house at the rear of his property and reflecting dazzlingly into his dark and secluded den, bathing it in brilliant light. The sun had invaded and illuminated his dark and shadowy kitchen. Yes, the sun is a light that darkness cannot overpower. Every day the sun, rising, bathes the whole world in light, and seeks out with its bright rays, every dark and secluded corner of the earth.

The sun is so bright and powerful, it is no wonder that many ancient peoples thought of it as a God. In the Christian tradition we use the image of the sun as a sign of God. A Christian hymn speaks of Jesus as “the sun of ransomed earth”. Jesus speaks of himself as “the light of the world”, and at his birth, the scriptures say, “the rising sun has come to visit us”. The hymn of the early church, quoted by Saint Paul today, also uses language reminiscent of the action of the sun, rising, setting and rising again. Jesus, in the heavens, came down to earth and descended even further, into the darkness of suffering and death. Then, out of the darkness of the tomb, he is raised to the highest place in all creation, as the risen Lord.

Like the sun rising, Jesus sheds his light upon all humankind, and his life is our hope and healing. The risen Lord lives forever and his risen life has overcome every darkness and every depth of misery and despair. He shines for all to see. His light seeks out the hidden places of the human heart, and the dark stories of tragic lives. Jesus knows these places, has walked these roads, has suffered these torments. What good to us is a God who doesn't care? What use to us is a God who does not know? What kind of God is a God who only looks on?

The passion story of Jesus that we read today is also the story of all human life in every age. In the sufferings of Jesus we see the darkness of the world. Jesus unjustly treated, wrongly accused, spat upon, laughed at, interrogated, tied up, tortured, condemned, led to execution, stripped of everything, nailed, left to die, buried and forgotten. These things happen to people everyday in every age. The darkness can seem impenetrable, its evil incurable. But it is not so.

Jesus, rising in glory, shines a light so bright that nothing can quench it. That light reflects in the hearts and minds and faces of every good person, and by reflection, enters the dark and hidden places of human sadness and suffering. The risen Jesus is given a name, Saint Paul tells us today. It is a name above all other names. That name is “Lord”. As the apostle Thomas said, on seeing Jesus in the upper room, “My Lord and my God.” This name means that evil will not triumph, and no one shall be lost forever. God's love is for all that he has made.

Just as the sun shines on honest and dishonest men alike, so, too, it is with the resurrection of Jesus. It shines for all. It shines on those who believe in the Lord, and on those who do not believe. On those who are not able to believe, and on those who refuse to believe. The light of Christ, reflected in our humble lives, may yet shine on many a dark corner and bring light and hope to many a darkened life.

It was a quiet Sunday morning when light burst out from a darkened tomb.

Light of Christ,

Fr. Bob

Pastor

Triduum

The Sacred Triduum refers to the three days before Easter. They include Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday. On Holy Thursday we commemorate the Last Supper and Christ's Passion and approaching crucifixion. Good Friday is a solemn time in which we remember the suffering death on the cross of Jesus Christ. On Holy Saturday we observe the Easter Vigil and anticipate Christ's triumphant resurrection from the dead. The Sacred Triduum is the apex of our liturgical year, and its glorious fulfillment. Let us observe these days as a special time of prayer and meditation.

“Let this cup pass from me; yet, not as I will, but as you will.”

Imagine Jesus, a man who had been praying and fasting for forty days in the desert; a man who had been driving away demons, raising the dead, curing the sick and the blind.

Now he enters into the Holy City, not as you would expect a king to enter, but on the back of a lowly donkey that his disciples find tied to a tree!

“Meek” is the word the Gospel uses to refer to this King, and we understand why as we examine his life – from his birth in a stable, to his entrance into the Holy City, to his death of crucifixion, a method reserved for slaves and criminals. We see that Jesus was not a king of this world. Although he could have asked God to take away his suffering – to ask him for help – he does not. Jesus has entirely surrendered to God’s will up until the end of his life!

Preparing for the Living Stations of the Cross

Our graduating 8th graders have begun working on their presentation of the Living Stations of the Cross. This reenactment of Jesus' last hours included poignant moments such as his sentencing, his falling under the weight of the cross, meeting his mother Mary, being helped by a stranger, and being nailed to the cross he carried.

This type of presentation helps the students picture themselves in the scene. In a way they are experiencing first-hand the suffering of Christ and gain a better appreciation of what he went through for us. It's a powerful way to prepare for Easter Sunday.

The 8th grade students will present the Living Stations on April 11th at 9:00am and Good Friday (April 18th) at 7:00pm.

Scenes from the Science Lab: Balloon Cars

Recently, Fourth graders took the lessons from their force and motion science unit and put them to the test by building balloon cars. Each student designed and built their own cars, then raced their balloon car while recording speed, distance, and stability.

5th Grade Peeks Behind the Curtain at the Opera

For over 10 years St. Cletus's 5th graders have been given a backstage tour of the Lyric Opera House. This is always a favorite field trip and a highlight of the school year.

The students witness the inner workings of the Civic Opera House and learn what really goes on behind the scenes of a world-class opera company. Students explored the theater, stage, and dressing rooms; visited the wig and wardrobe departments; viewed props displays; ventured across a six-story-high catwalk; and were even able to try on authentic costumes and armor. Lastly, they watched as the stage was transformed into the beginning scene for the Opera, "Rusalka" which was being performed that evening.

As you can tell by the picture above if the Lyric needs some extra performers they need not look any further than St. Cletus!

Students were inspired by the tremendous variety of skilled professionals working at Lyric and came away with the realization that it's not just singers who can have a career in opera.

Cry

"Jesus wept." This short verse in John's Gospel always moves me. Because Jesus is both God and man, he reveals the nature of God in a way we humans can witness and understand. When Jesus learned of the death of his dear friend Lazarus, he was overcome by tears and revealed the compassionate nature of God. God feels our pain and accompanies us in our sorrows.

Life in a family involves moments of sadness, loss, or grief. Sometimes we may feel alone in our sorrow, but God is always close. As Jesus revealed and the mystic Meister Eckhart proclaimed, "Whatever God does, the first outburst is always compassion." Bring your sadness, loss, or grief and offer it to God who knows your heart and longs to comfort you in your sorrow. —Tom McGrath
