NOTES FROM FATHER BOB...

FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME 2015

The story of Bernadette of Lourdes always provokes strong feelings about miracles. Some people are positive and faith-filled, others are skeptical. James, a twenty-year-old student who travelled to Lourdes on the Jumble Ambulance with a group of sick people, was one such skeptic. From time to time he made cynical comments, but he was intrigued by the question of why so many people travelled to Lourdes. The gaudy tourist shops did not help him, but the joy and faith of doctors, nurses, helpers and the sick changed his mind. There was something mysterious about the experience in Lourdes. It deepened his faith in people and God. He returned home having witnessed many small miracles, cures which were inexplicable to modern medicine. They were extraordinary events.

Miracles cannot be explained. Words also fail when we try to describe the evil in the world. Popular papers sometimes headline people who do very wrong deeds as “evil” or “possessed”. There is an interest in the demonic in many novels, and some people are tempted to experiment with black magic. When we see a crowd turning violent, or the ferocity of ethnic cleansing, we are not only witnessing the effects of prejudice or hatred. There seems to be something more to it. This “something more” has been associated in different ages with the force of evil, dark principalities and powers or the devil. The reality of evil must be named.

To the modern mind, today’s Gospel raises a lot of questions. How do we understand healings and the casting out of devils? The frequency with which these things occur in the gospels shows that Jesus must have been both healer and liberator from evil.

To understand the power of God active in the deeds of Jesus, we must recognize all that stands in opposition to good. It comes in many different forms. Some people suffer from sickness and need healing. Others suffer from the evil deeds of those around them and from sin. Sin causes disorder and breaks communion with others. The power of evil is mysterious, but it cannot be denied. However, the Gospel teaches that the power of God is always greater than any other force, whether sin, sickness or evil.

Why in the Gospel is it that the devils recognize Jesus? Perhaps it is because the power of goodness will always be able to uncover evil. It is part of the mystery of Mark’s gospel that the disciples do not fully understand Jesus until after his crucifixion and resurrection. Mark does not want the hearers of the gospel to see Jesus as a magician or wonder-worker. Rather his miracles must be seen in the context of the victory of the cross and resurrection. It is this which reassures us that the power of God is greater than any other force. We have confidence that it can liberate from sin, from suffering and from evil.

Modern psychology can lead to a fuller understanding of the human person and the ways in which mental illness is treatable. It can help to overcome the stigma once associated with it, and past associations with possession. On the other hand, we cannot simply reduce evil to psychology or social conditioning. There is another reality, which only God overcomes.

God is involved in the healing of sickness, normally through the ordinary means of medicine, but occasionally in extraordinary ways through the miraculous. God is active when people are liberated from oppression through the establishment of justice in society. The power of God can free people from all forms of enslavement, including the mystery of evil – the “something more” which we cannot explain. We have faith that God has triumphed over evil and will overcome all things. Jesus has promised to be with his followers until the end of time.

Prayerfully Yours,

Father Bob

YEAR OF THE SACRAMENTS 2014 -2015
NEW STAINED GLASS WINDOWS

Pope Francis has declared 2014-15 as the Year of the Sacraments to be celebrated by the church worldwide. This celebration of the seven sacraments of the church is an excellent way for all Catholics to focus and reconnect with the rich power and grace that the sacraments offer each of us. They are a great source of grace that empowers us to be faithful disciples of the gospel in our world.

The sacraments are celebrated daily here at St. Cletus Parish and are essential to our strength as a faith-filled community of believers as Catholics.

It was brought to my attention by a faithful parishioner that the small windows on the sides of our church would be beautiful as stained glass windows similar to the very beautiful stained glass windows that adorn the upper windows that depict the Creed. During this year of celebrating the sacraments, we will be putting in stained glass windows of the seven sacraments in the small windows by the candles.

Please note the beautiful pictures below that show exactly how these windows will look. Each of the seven sacraments will be celebrated with a custom made window in the style of our large stained glass windows. The new windows will be paid for strictly by donations in memory of a loved one or donation in the name of a family or individual. The cost of each window is $3,000 installed. This will include a plaque identifying the person or family who sponsored the window and will be mounted on the shelf below the window. Please note the windows for the sacraments of Marriage and Holy Orders have already been sponsored by donations. If interested in sponsoring one of the remaining windows please call the rectory office for further information and an opportunity to view the artist's drawings.

Be Part of the 2015 Annual Catholic Appeal “Entrusted with Responsibility”

Many of you have responded to the Annual Catholic Appeal mailing from Archbishop Cupich. He asks that you make a pledge to the 2015 Annual Catholic Appeal. It is a pledge campaign where you can make a gift in installments.

This year, the theme of the Appeal is Entrusted with Responsibility. God provides each of us with many gifts. We have a responsibility not only to recognize these gifts but also to nurture them. Our combined gifts not only signify our gratitude to God, they fund a significant portion of the work of our Archdiocese.

If you received your pledge form in the mail, please complete it and mail it back or bring it to Mass this weekend. For those of you that did not receive a mailing or have not had time to respond to it, we will conduct our in-pew pledge process at all Masses this weekend.

As we contemplate His gifts to us, we should also reflect on our gratitude for these gifts. Your financial support for the work of our parish, our Archdiocese and the Church throughout the world is, in fact, one way to express this gratitude. Please give generously to the 2015 Annual Catholic Appeal.

Thank you for your prayerful consideration and generous response.

YEAR OF SACRAMENTS • ONE WORD AT A TIME

Tell

©Brian Warling

We were probably very young at the time of our first confession. Inevitably, someone—a teacher or a parent—told us, “Tell your sins to the priest.” Ever since that time, we may have been reluctant or we may have been relieved, but we have always known what we must do. We must tell our sins. Perhaps we have never quite grasped the reason for telling our sins. Actually, it’s pretty simple.

When we tell our sins, we honestly own what we have done and what we have failed to do. When we tell our sins, we let them go into God’s merciful hands. When we tell our sins, we acknowledge the next steps we must take, where we must go.

Finally, we understand. This is not about embarrassment. It’s about freedom and change. And that is the work of God’s grace.

HEALING MINISTRY

During Jesus' ministry "he cured many who were sick with various diseases, and he drove out many demons." This is the case in today's Gospel. Jesus fulfills the vision of Psalm 147: "He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds."

Jesus knew, however, that he couldn't possibly heal all the illness in the world. No matter how many people he cured or how many hours he ministered, there always would be more suffering people like Job who craved his healing touch. His primary mission was not to rid the world of all suffering. His "purpose" was to preach the coming of the reign of God that heals, yes, but ultimately transcends and transforms earthly suffering. With Paul, Jesus could have said, "Woe to me if I do not preach" that good news.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

"Last rites" is a persistent but pesky phrase in the Catholic lexicon, and not a particularly useful phrase since it props open the door to misunderstanding. Many Catholics presume it refers to the anointing of the sick, yet there is nothing "last" about it. Clearly, the Church desires anointing to be celebrated fairly early on in the crisis of illness, and not as a last measure. The Rites for the Dying stand apart in the Church's plan, and include two principal rites. The first is viaticum, Latin for "food for the journey," the reception of Holy Communion by a dying person. Even very active and aware Catholics often do not realize that this "last rite" does not require a priest's presence, but can be conducted by a deacon or minister of Holy Communion.

The second "last rite" in the pastoral plan is a prayer called "Commendation of the Dying." Similarly, this does not require the presence of a priest, but can be led by any minister or family member. Too often, we have focused on what only a priest can do, namely anoint, and have forgotten the fullness of liturgical care that the Church desires for its dying faithful. The "last rites" are completely available to us even when a priest is not.

Learning About Their Senses and the USA Deaf Hockey Team

The kindergartners have been learning all about their senses. On Thursday, a special guest visited the children to talk about his experience as a person who is hard of hearing. The special guest was Derek, a high school student and a recent addition to the USA deaf hockey team. Derek talked about getting his first hearing aids around the age of 5 and told the children how he can remember walking outside and hearing rain for the first time. He played a game with the children where they had to use their sense of hearing to determine what was being shaken in a container. He showed the children how he often has to rely on lip reading and demonstrated this by asking a few students to whisper to him. He emphasized the importance of eye contact when talking to someone ALL the time, but especially with those who may be hard of hearing or deaf. It was a wonderful experience for the children.

Thank you, Derek and we wish you the best of luck representing the USA!

“Rising very early before dawn, he left and went off to a deserted place, where he prayed...He told them, ‘Let us go on to the nearby villages that I may preach there also. For this purpose have I come.’” -Mark 1:35, 38

In today's Gospel reading we see a perfect example of stewardship. Jesus gives His time to do all that God wishes - healing the sick and preaching. Yet, Jesus also makes time to be alone in prayer. It is through prayer, spending time with God, that we find the strength to do what God wishes us to do. Be sure to find time every day to be with God.
