THE MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST

June 18, 2017

*The bread that we break, is it not a participation
in the body of Christ?*

*Because the loaf
of bread is one,
we, though many,
are one body,
for we all partake
of the one loaf.*

Notes from Fr. Bob...

MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST (CORPUS CHRISTI) 2017

Today's readings are about a memorial. It is not made of stone like those we raise in memory of those who we have lost, but is nonetheless real: a memorial meal. The Eucharist which we celebrate today is the memorial instituted by Jesus. It draws attention to his life; it proclaims his death; and it celebrates his resurrection from the dead. The Eucharist draws attention to issues in our world that have not gone away and are much needed: sacrifice, service, presence, and redemptive love.

In today's first reading, Moses reminds the people of God's saving goodness, shown to them over many years. The remembering is important, because it keeps the people alive to the continuing saving presence of God. Similarly, Paul emphasizes the importance of the Eucharist, this memorial which represents an intimate sharing in the life of Christ, which binds people together more surely than anything that can tear them apart.

Jesus draws on the familiar tradition of God's provision for the people in the desert and takes it much further. It is not manna which now feeds and nourishes. It is his own flesh, given for the life of the world. Here we have a memorial which draws on the past, takes place in the present, and promises the future. It effects union with Christ, and so with the Father.

So this celebration works on many levels at once. We hear again of the sacrifice of Jesus, his self-giving, his offering of his own life that we might live. We are reminded that in the Eucharist we enjoy communion with Jesus, and so are drawn into his life with the Father. We are also drawn together in faith and become a community with Christ's self-giving at its centre. And we commit ourselves to Christ's kingdom of justice, reconciliation, and peace.

When we celebrate the Eucharist, we are caught up in a living memorial. We are challenged to deepen our commitment to each other as we reflect on the example of Jesus, who gives generously of himself, that we might live. His life of loving service inspires us and empowers us to serve as he does.

Our communion with Christ and with each other in the Eucharist is the beginning of eternal life. In Christ we are already in the tomb, and already risen and ascended to the Father. Eternal life has already begun for us. The Eucharistic memorial is where we are reminded of this and taken up in

it. Our communion is our salvation, tangible and very near.

Our great civic memorials commemorate lives lived and lost, and the Eucharist is no exception; but it is much more too. The life that was lived and lost was found again. Jesus died and was raised from the dead. And so too our lives are lived, will be lost, and will be restored to us by God's grace. A memorial which can do this can only come from God. And that God's own self is caught up in this memorial can only come from love.

Blessings of Christ in the Eucharist to All,

Fr. Bob

Sunday Notes - The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

TRUST IN JESUS

Today's feast celebrates another central mystery of our faith—the mystery of the Eucharist. Like the mystery of the Trinity, the real presence of the Body and Blood of Christ in the Eucharist can never be fully understood, but can only be believed. Just as the Israelites in the desert were invited to put their trust in God's word to them, we are invited to trust wholly in the word of Jesus. In today's Gospel Jesus promises to give us a share in his very own flesh and blood, and a share in eternal life besides. We are called to take him at his word and open our hearts to receive true nourishment and life from our participation in the Eucharist.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

At the heart of today's solemnity is a eucharistic procession, held in many parishes, that calls to mind the procession of Holy Thursday, yet has a purpose different from the somber adoration in the night watch. In the late Middle Ages, a procession through the city with the Blessed Sacrament was an occasion of heartfelt joy and great emotion. In a time when people seldom approached the altar to receive Holy Communion, the procession through the streets, past homes and workplaces, was a vibrant reminder that Christ was with them as a dear companion and guide.

Every year on this day, a joyful procession winds through the streets of Rome from the Lateran cathedral. A few years ago, Pope John Paul II, deeply moved at the sight of the throng accompanying the sacred host, said that we ought to feel profoundly united with the faithful everywhere in the world at such a moment. "Before our mind's eye all the Churches of the world, from East to West, from North to South, are present." Originally this feast was on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday, but after the calendar reform of 1970, its title was expanded from "Corpus Christi" to "The Body and Blood of Christ" and in the United States it was moved to the Sunday after Trinity Sunday. Even though Easter season ended two weeks ago, this beautiful feast is aglow with Easter light.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

DO YOU THINK YOU ARE BEING ABUSED?

Look over the following questions. Think about how you are being treated and how you treat your partner. Remember, when one person scares, hurts, or continually puts down the other person, it is abuse.

Does your partner...

- Embarrass or make fun of you in front of your friends or family? Put down your accomplishments or goals?
- Make you feel like you are unable to make decisions? Use intimidation or threats to gain compliance?
- Treat you roughly-grab, push, pinch, shove or hit you? Threaten or abuse your pets?
- Call you several times a night or show up to make sure you are where you said you would be?
- Use drugs or alcohol as an excuse for saying hurtful things or abusing you?
- Blame you for how they feel or act?
- Pressure you sexually for things you aren't ready for?
- Make you feel like there "is no way out" of the relationship?
- Prevent you from doing things you want-like spending time with your friends or family?
- Try to keep you from leaving after a fight, or leave you somewhere after a fight?

Do You...

- Sometimes feel scared of how your partner will act?
- Constantly make excuses to other people for your partner's behavior?
- Believe that you can help your partner change if only you changed something about yourself?
- Try not to do anything that would cause conflict or make your partner angry?
- Feel like no matter what you do, your partner is never happy with you?
- Always do what your partner wants you to do instead of what you want?
- Stay with your partner because you are afraid of what your partner would do if you broke up?

If any of these situations are happening in your relationship, talk to someone you trust or call the National Domestic Violence Hotline (available 24/7/365): 1-800-799-7233 (SAFE) or the local 24 hour hotline for Pillars: 708.485.5254. Without help, the abuse will continue.

WORD OF LIFE

"God uses creation to bring us into loving relationship with himself, most notably through the sacraments. We experience this most powerfully in the Eucharist, the true body and blood of Christ, received under the appearance of bread and wine, where 'all that has been created finds its greatest exaltation' (LS 236)."

CATHOLIC CHARITIES CELEBRATES 100 YEARS OF HISTORY

...and who is my neighbor?

In the parable of the Good Samaritan, when a man was beaten down and robbed on his way from Jerusalem to Jericho, travelers passed him by. A Samaritan, moved by compassion, takes the victim to an inn and pays the cost for him to be taken care of.

Are we not all travelers on the road from Jerusalem to Jericho?

Today, that road runs through Chicago.
The streets where we serve run red with the blood of children.

These are OUR neighborhoods.

Can you hear the sobs of mothers and grandmothers the walking wounded; not shot, but dying on the inside?
Please don't look away or step around.

We are ALL neighbors in God's eyes.

We are all on the same road of life. The poor, the hungry, the jobless, the hopeless – all beaten down.
Will you help us lift up our neighbors?

Will you be a Good Samaritan and help today?

WEDDING MINISTRY

IS THE WEDDING MINISTRY CALLING YOU?

All you have to say is "I do"- to accept the call and you are on your way. You would work with a partner in talking and walking the bridal party through their rehearsal (the night before) and being present at the wedding to assist in setting up as needed. There is an easy guide to follow and you would be trained. It's a great ministry to help ease any anxiety of the happy couple. It is not a large time commitment as weddings occur sporadically and the more ministers we have, your service can be spaced at your preference.

Please think about this and give me a call (or send an e-mail) if you have any questions or would like more information. Contact Paulette Bolton at 708 215-5422 or email pbolton@stcletusparish.com

SPIRITUAL GIFTS WORKSHOP FRUITFUL!

Earlier in June, nearly two dozen high school teens gathered for a workshop on Spiritual Giftedness. They learned about the right and duty Christians have to use their spiritual charisms, given in baptism. Through the use of a specifically designed inventory, they were able to discover what their charisms are and how they can use them as well as set up a plan to support each other in spiritual growth by sharing their gifts with the world. This workshop will be offered again on August 7th. All high school teens who have completed at least one year of high school are welcome to attend!!
