Notes from Fr. Bob...

SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

On Holy Thursday, April 11, 1963, a letter was published, addressed to all people of goodwill. The signature at the end of the letter was that of Pope John XXIII, and the title of the letter was PACEM IN TERRIS – “PEACE ON EARTH”. It was the last letter, or encyclical, that John XXIII wrote. Two months later he was dead. The letter, therefore, stands as his “last will and testament”. After a lifetime spent in the diplomatic service of the Church, with appointments in Bulgaria, Turkey, Greece and France between 1935 and 1953, Angelo Roncalli had returned to Italy, and to the care of souls, as Patriarch of Venice. When he was elected Pope, in 1958, he showed the world the warm and human face of a pastoral and fatherly figure.

The encyclical PACEM IN TERRIS is a landmark document. “Peace on Earth” is a most attractive thought and a dearly desired goal, but it remains elusive and unrealized. Many people would say that the idea of peace is unrealistic in our human society. In many ways Pope John XXIII would agree with them. This world is not a place of peace, he says in his letter. Pope John had first-hand experience of war and conflict. He knew what he was talking about. He had been a chaplain in the Medical Corps in the First World War. He had worked tirelessly for people in Greece and Turkey during the Second World War. He saw the end of that war in Paris.

Now, in 1963, as his life was ending, Pope John gave his great teaching, to direct us how to find peace and to work for peace in the world. He tells us to look into our human nature, and to find there the meaning inscribed by God. Looking into our nature, we will find the dignity of the human person. That is our starting point for the peace of the world.

At the Last Supper, the night before he died, Jesus made his own last will and testament to his disciples. St. John has recorded at length the words that Jesus spoke on that occasion. The great bequest that Jesus makes, his parting gift, is the gift of peace. It is the power of the Holy Spirit, which, after his death and resurrection, Jesus will send from the Father to all who love him and who keep his word. The Holy Spirit of God empowers people to live in tranquility of heart, and to negotiate the storms of this world without losing that peace. That is a powerful spirit and a tremendous gift.

The need for that Holy Spirit became evident very quickly in the life of the early Church. An argument broke out about the very meaning of following Christ. Some Jewish wanted the sign of their tradition, circumcision, to be demanded of the Gentile converts.

All sides of the argument were presented and argued for. Judgment was made, wise judgment, but not at the expense of any side. All points were given due consideration and value. It was not about winners and losers, but about finding the right way forward.

When Pope John wrote “Peace on Earth”, to all people of goodwill, he stressed especially the need for discussion and mutual understanding. “Conflicts”, he said, “should not be resolved by recourse to arms, but rather by negotiation.”

In May 2009 Pope Benedict XVI visited the Holy Land as “a pilgrim of peace”. The conflict in the Middle East and in the land of Jesus’ birth is a symbol of all the conflicts that exist throughout the world. In every place and in every generation the task of “making peace” continues. Pope Benedict spoke of “unleashing the power of respect, reconciliation and cooperation”. Instead of unleashing weapons on one another, we are called to understand the power of respect for human dignity, and the great good that it can do.

Pope John concluded his letter with a prayer: “May Christ inflame the desires of all... to break through the barriers which divide them, to strengthen the bonds of mutual love, to learn to understand one another, and to pardon those who have done them wrong. Through his power and inspiration may all peoples welcome each other to their hearts... and may the peace they long for ever flower and ever reign among them.”

“Peace be with you” is the Easter greeting of the risen Lord. That greeting is not merely a wish. It is a gift imparted to us. It is a responsibility. It is our calling and vocation.

Peace be with you and with your spirit!

PRESCHOOL ART SHOW

Our preschoolers recently showcased their artistic talents at the Preschool Art Show. The students used various mediums which they displayed for their families and friends. Students reap many benefits from the inclusion of the arts in our curriculum, including positive development in the academic, social, and emotional realms. Thank you to all those who attended.

4TH GRADE SCIENCE LAB

In the future they may design a way to capture the power from renewable energy sources. To get them started, Ms. Pauly challenged the 4th grade to design and create water wheels with the goal of lifting 10 large metal washers. All groups succeeded!

3RD GRADE SCIENCE LAB

Third graders recently put their teamwork and engineering skills to the test when Ms. Pauly tasked them with lifting a marshmallow off the floor to the table without touching it with their hands. These tinkerers came up with many great solutions to this challenge.

TEACHER FOR A DAY

Showing great leadership, this second grader made a fabulous Teacher for a Day. The Teacher for a Day is one of the most popular items each year at the spring auction and is always much enjoyed by the lucky student who wins it.

RESPECT LIFE

She Reigns - It is good to close the Month of Mary with the words of St. John Paul the Great in his 1995 Letter to Women. Her entire life was, he wrote, a service of love.

The Church sees in Mary the highest expression of the "feminine genius" and she finds in her a source of constant inspiration. Mary called herself the "handmaid of the Lord" (Lk 1:38). Through obedience to the Word of God she accepted her lofty yet not easy vocation as wife and mother in the family of Nazareth.

Putting herself at God's service, she also put herself at the service of others: a service of love. Precisely through this service Mary was able to experience in her life a mysterious, but authentic "reign".

It is not by chance that she is invoked as "Queen of heaven and earth". The entire community of believers thus invokes her; many nations and peoples call upon her as their "Queen". For her, "to reign" is to serve!

Hail, thou holiest of Queens.

WORD OF LIFE

"Mary, patroness of America, renew in us a love for the beauty and sanctity of the human person from conception to natural death; and as your Son gave His life for us, help us to live our lives serving others. Mother of the Church, Mother of our Savior, open our hearts to the Gospel of life, protect our nation, and make us witnesses to the truth."

HITZEMAN GRIEF SUPPORT

We welcome you and your family to join us for our Grief Support Gatherings which occur the second Tuesday of each month. These groups are intended to be social in nature where we can express our support with others that are experiencing the same feelings.

We know how losing a loved one affects the core of each family. Whether the passing is sudden or after a long battle with illness, each soul has a story. And everyone has their own way of coping with such a loss; sometimes, we don't know how to start finding a way through the fog of emotions and despair.

Join us for a night of fun as we roll up our sleeves and get our creative juices flowing! Special guest, Joan Cantwell, a nurse and artist will talk about her journey as a caretaker and griever after the death of her father. She will share how art allowed her to work through existential questions about life and how it has made it possible for her to move beyond feeling stuck. To demonstrate the value of incorporating creativity in your grief journey, Joan will also facilitate an art project with participants. Please bring a small picture of your loved one. Ms. Cantwell is a contributor and editor of the book, 21 Peaceful Nurses: Essays on a Spiritually Guided Practice.

Tuesday, June 11, 2019 6:30 P.M. – 8:00 P.M.
Hitzeman Funeral Home
9445 West 31st St. Brookfield, IL 60513

We are excited to see our group continue to grow! Seating for this discussion is extremely limited; you must R.S.V.P. to info@hitzemanfuneral.com or 708-485-2000. We are requiring a $10 registration fee for this discussion to hold your seat to ensure attendance.

All proceeds will go to The Compassionate Friends Program which aids families who have lost a child. This group also has a local chapter in Brookfield. Refreshments will follow. For more information please visit www.HitzemanFuneral.com/GriefSupport

SAINT JOHN'S ABBEY TODAY'S REFLECTION

"In vino veritas" (literally "In wine the truth"); the old proverb reminds us that tongues loosened by alcohol often blurt out truths otherwise kept to ourselves. Another old saying ("out of the mouths of babes...") is that children in their naïveté may let fall uncomfortable or unacknowledged truths. For instance: an elderly man with a cane was walking out of a funeral home visitation; he finds the exit is under the "control" of two young children. A little boy and a girl, presumably his sister, a few heads taller than him, are opening the door. As he goes through the door the little boy acknowledges the cane and says "broken leg." "No" says the man. The little girl offers: "It's something that happens when you're very, very old." There may be other reminders too for an octogenarian but this is easier to welcome, coming from such innocence.

The truth about ourselves, about life, can be found, of course, through self-examination or accepting the comments of a friend. But frequently, the genuine truth comes from less likely sources. People who are not our biggest fans can come up with critical remarks or, even in anger, let out uncomfortable truths. Even if the source at first raises our hackles more than our self-awareness, there may be a kernel of truth in such remarks. Literature and theater can similarly open our eyes.

It's easy to build up defenses against seeing our true selves and opening ourselves to change. When seasons like Lent and Easter call us to conversion, the initial phase may be self-knowledge. Unless we see the issues, it's unlikely we'll welcome the cure. We don't see the Savior unless we see the sin.

THE GIFT OF PEACE

“There arose no little dissension and debate.” Did that happen at work this week? Most of us can recall run-ins with coworkers, even with the boss. Did it happen while socializing with friends? Go easy on politics, religion . . . even sports. At home? Even the most peaceful household experiences a little “give and take” now and then. So where was it that “there arose no little dissension and debate”? That tumultuous conflict occurred among our first Christian ancestors, disrupting the community life of the early church. But today’s Acts of the Apostles shows how beautifully the Holy Spirit, promised by Jesus in today’s Gospel, helped the church achieve a grace-filled resolution. What evolved was that “reconciled diversity,” often encouraged by Pope Francis and even envisioned in today’s Revelation passage; and a wondrous experience of Jesus’ promised Gospel gift: “Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you.”

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Why is it still Easter? The lilies have long since faded. The roots of our tradition of fifty days of rejoicing from Easter to Pentecost lie in the seven-day rhythm of the Jewish week, drawn from the six days of creation plus a Sabbath day. A favorite name for the Lord’s Day among our ancestors in the faith was “The Eighth Day,” meaning that in Christ a breakthrough to a new humanity was achieved. With that inner architecture, it makes sense to see Pentecost as a week of weeks, forty-nine days plus one, again signaling that a new age has begun in Christ and the outpouring of his Spirit. The Jewish appreciation for Pentecost gave rise to the Jubilee year, the fiftieth year, when debts were released and prisoners set free. Today, the character of our Easter Sundays is conveyed by joyful Alleluias and the rite of sprinkling at Mass. Long ago, people expressed this joy by suspending all rules of fasting and by never kneeling at liturgy.

These customs all point to our conviction that time is holy. There is an elegant balance to the Christian year: forty days of Lenten fast and discipline give way to fifty days of unrestrained rejoicing. That’s why it is still Easter!
