Notes from Fr. Bob...

27TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Imagine a world in which no one had faith in anything. What would it be like? Could such a world function? We seldom reflect on the fact that so much that happens in our lives depends upon our having faith in a whole host of institutions and individuals. If no one had faith in governments, in doctors, in air-line pilots, in spouses, in parents, in friends, in employers, in football teams, and so on, life would simply grind to a halt. Our lives would be characterized by cynicism, despair and anarchy. A world in which no one had faith in anything would be a hell on earth.

But suppose we narrow the question down a bit and ask: what would a world be like in which no one had religious faith? The answer to that question might seem more problematic. Would it really make all that much difference if no one had any religious faith? Life would still go on, surely? It's just that there'd be no churches, no mosques, no synagogues. But a moment's thought will make us realize that much more would be lacking. There would be no prayer, no worship, no religious ceremonies, no believing communities. There would be no holy books like the Bible, no holy people, no notion of holiness at all. There would be no appreciation of life as a journey, or a search, or a quest; no appreciation of life as a gift. These things are so much part of what we are that a world without religious faith would be a world we would hardly recognize as human.

Strangely we don't often think of faith like that. We think of it as a very private thing: something I have as an individual; something I must preserve; something going on inside me. We also tend to think of it as something a bit precarious, something we could lose if we're not too careful. And so we have a lot of sympathy with the apostles in today's gospel when they make that appeal to Jesus: "Increase our faith".

The Lord's reply seems very odd. We almost get the impression that he thinks faith can be tested by working unlikely wonders. But perhaps we can get a better idea of what Jesus is saying if we take the liberty of inserting one extra word into the first paragraph of the gospel. See what happens when we put in that additional word: "The apostles said to the Lord, 'Increase our faith.' The Lord laughed and replied, 'Were your faith the size of a mustard seed you could say to this mulberry tree, 'Be uprooted and planted in the sea,' and it would obey you.'"

If we put it like that we see immediately that Jesus is not making a profound pronouncement. Still less is he challenging his followers to pepper the sea with trees. He is using exaggeration to make a point and to make the apostles think.

What is the point? Surely that faith is not the kind of thing you can measure. It's not the kind of thing you can have more of or less of. Faith is a way of being; a way of seeing; a way of journeying. It's not something we have, it's rather something we're caught up in. Of course, there is a private and personal dimension of faith. But essentially we're not isolated individuals who have to grit our teeth and hang on to our faith through thick and thin. We're part of a community of believers; a community who lead a life of faith and support each other in that life of faith. That's one reason we pray at Mass: "Look not on our sins but on the faith of your Church."

As followers of Christ everything we do is informed by faith. Faith surrounds us; faith carries us; faith is our way of being. And we manifest our faith in simple and obvious ways: by coming together for Mass, by praying, by celebrating the sacraments, by reaching out to one another in gospel love. It might not seem very spectacular to us. It's certainly got nothing to do with performing amazing feats. But faith really does change the world. A world without religious faith would be an impoverished world, for it would be a world in which the deepest aspirations of the human heart could have no place.

In Faith,

Fr. Bob Clark
Pastor

IF YOU HAVE FAITH
THE SIZE OF A MUSTARD SEED,
YOU WOULD SAY
TO THIS MULBERRY TREE,
"BE UPROOTED
AND PLANTED IN THE SEA,"
AND IT WOULD OBEY YOU.

OCTOBER IS 'RIGHT TO LIFE' MONTH

Once again, as we begin 'Right to Life' month, let us recommit ourselves to the sanctity of God's gift of life from conception to natural death. As God's creation in His own image and likeness, we become the temple of the Holy Spirit from the moment we are conceived in our mother's womb until God calls us home at the moment of our death. We need to recommit our efforts to uphold this beautiful gift of life. Let us prayer for a renewal of respect for life in all its forms during this month dedicated to God's gift of life.

OCTOBER IS RESPECT LIFE MONTH

“Although we must cherish, protect, and defend human life year-round, the Catholic Church in the United States sets aside each October as Respect Life Month.

This year’s theme, ‘Christ Our Hope: In Every Season of Life,’ is particularly suited for our times. While attacks against human life seem to grow ever more numerous and callous, we know that Christ has conquered sin and death. Through our Christian hope in the Resurrection, we are given the grace to persevere in faith.

Jesus asks us to be as leaven in the world, to bring His light to the darkness. Our daily activities take each of us to places only we can go, to people only we will meet. May we allow Christ to renew and strengthen us, that He may work through us in each moment of every day.

Be assured of my prayers for you and for our common efforts to bring about a world in which every life is cherished. And so, together, may we hold fast to Christ, our hope.”

Chairman of the Committee on Pro-Life Activities

A LITTLE FAITH

Today our readings are about faith, frustration, and how much is enough. Habakkuk is a complainer having an argument with God. Timothy is encouraging a community challenged by cowardice and the apostles want more faith than they have. Things aren't happening fast enough for any of them or for us. All of them and we want God to do something sooner rather than later and we want God to give us a reason to believe that it will all work out. What does God do? God puts it back on them—and us—telling Habakkuk to describe the world he wants; telling the apostles to do more than the expected. Doing more with less is a familiar phrase today and a reminder that a little faith may be enough even for the most difficult times.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Sometimes human relationships go awry, but Christ's choice for us is irrevocable. In marriage celebrations, the Church always recalls God's faithfulness to help prepare married couples for enduring the inevitable rough spots. The Byzantine liturgy does this by adorning the couple with crowns that remind them of the martyr's crown. The couple therefore takes on a vocation of witnessing to the sacredness of life in all of its suffering and joy, and of keeping their eyes fixed on the banquet of heaven.

In Eastern theology, people have a liturgical vocation to give God praise, and marriage fits within that plan. It is not so much saying prayers that counts, but becoming prayer. Interestingly, in this liturgy the couple never utters a word other than joining in the community's chants; there are no marriage vows as such. There is therefore not a hint of our Western Christian sense that marriage is a legal contract. Rather, it is all about living out one's baptismal vocation, embracing the cross, pouring oneself out in love, and opening to the grace of the Holy Spirit.

Stop by the Living Rosary's table in the Narthex today. We have all things about the Rosary: free rosaries, medals, prayer guides, coloring pages and many other things to help celebrate the Rosary and our Mother Mary.

The St. Cletus Living Rosary is made up of parishioners from near and far; over 100 members commit to praying a particular decade of the rosary each day. This way many entire Rosaries are said each day. We welcome anyone who would like to join us in honoring Mary in a small way each day.

Stop by our table for more information and to take a step toward eternity.

You will receive an email once or twice a month, encouraging you to prayer. Each email will contain a suitable prayer for those of us who find words harder to come by.

The parish website has a form you need to complete to join – under the 'Ministries & Groups' tab on the home page. No computer? No worries – please give your name and address to the parish center and we will send you each offering via the US postal service.

AARP TAX-AIDE NEEDS VOLUNTEERS FOR THE 2020 TAX FILING SEASON

Looking for a rewarding opportunity to make a difference in your community?

The AARP Tax-Aide Program is now seeking volunteers for the upcoming 2020 tax filing season. It's not necessary for you to be an AARP member or to have a tax or an accounting background to volunteer. However, some knowledge of your own personal tax matters is very helpful. All returns are prepared on computers; thus, volunteers should be somewhat computer literate. Training classes will be held in January, 2020. Minimum time commitment during the filing season is 4 to 5 hours one day per week from early February to mid-April.

This income tax preparation and assistance service is offered to low and middle income individuals with special attention to those 60 years and older. Won't you help?

For further information about the program and to sign up as a volunteer, please visit: https://www.aarp.org/money/taxes/aarp_taxaide/ or contact St. Cletus parishioner John Wagner at 708-352-0170 for further details.

HITZEMAN GRIEF SUPPORT GATHERING

We welcome you and your family to join us for our Grief Support Gatherings which occur the second Tuesday of each month. We know how losing a loved one affects the core of each family. Whether the passing is sudden or after a long battle with illness, each soul has a story. And everyone has their own way of coping with such a loss; sometimes, we don't know how to start finding a way through the fog of emotions and despair. The holidays are times we set aside to celebrate and spend time with family. After the death of a loved one, this time of the year can be very difficult to manage. In this discussion you will learn strategies for coping with grief during the holidays. Hopefully these tips will help you or someone you know who is grieving have a better experience.

Tuesday, October 8, 2019 6:30 - 7:30 P.M.
