Notes from Fr. Bob...

FOURTH SUNDAY OF ADVENT

King David wants to mark a new stage in his reign. His wars have ended, his enemies have been subdued, his kingdom is secure, his palace is built. A new era of peace and prosperity beckons, and David seeks to commemorate this, to show the permanence of his achievements and power, by constructing a suitable dwelling place for God. This is something very natural – an act of recognition of God, but also an expression of David’s own position, power and accomplishments.

Perhaps in our own way, we can have something of David’s mixed motives in our relationship with God. There can be times when we consciously do things for God. It might be a major life-decision or a small act of kindness or self-sacrifice. Mixed up in our selfishness and dedication can be a little of what David felt: a certain self-conscious pride in what we are doing, perhaps a desire to be noticed and admired by others, or at least to make ourselves seem worthy in our own eyes, a feeling that we are giving God something over and above what might be expected. It can be as if, somehow, we can make God grateful to us, perhaps even get God to realize that he owes us something.

The Lord’s reply to David should snap us out of such self-delusion. Whatever David thinks he is doing for God, God reminds David of all the great things he has done for him and for the people of Israel. All things come from him, and David would be nothing without him. He reminds David how utterly dependent he is on God’s graciousness – not just in the present and in the past, but also stretching right out into the future. This is also a salutary reminder to us of just how much we depend on God’s goodness – and that we can never give anything to God which he has not first given to us. We cannot earn or deserve, let alone coerce his love. Anything we do for God is always a response – and a very inadequate one – to the greatness of God’s love for us in the first place.

There is a marked distinction between David and Mary. Mary is under no illusions about her own importance. Far from having David’s brash confidence in approaching God, Mary is disturbed, confused; she needs to be reassured that there is no need to fear. In saying she is a virgin; Mary is acknowledging her own emptiness, her inability to do what God is asking of her on her own. It is only by the power of God himself that Mary is able to allow God to achieve his purposes. Mary’s humble acquiescence is in stark contrast to David’s proud self-confidence.

It is through Mary that God finally builds himself a home, a dwelling-place among his people. He lives not in a house of wood or stone, but in a womb of flesh and blood,

a heart full of love. As we stand on the threshold of another celebration of God’s coming into our world at Christmas, like Mary, we need to listen to the voice of God and acknowledge our own emptiness and dependence on God, but like her, trustingly give our “yes” to God. Like Mary, we too can say: “I am the handmaid of the Lord. Let what you have said be done unto me.” It is when we seek God’s will, not our own, that God really can come and make his home in us. And through our lives, his love can then become real – in the flesh – in the world through us. That is God’s invitation and challenge to us. As individuals and a Church, we can have confidence not in our own abilities and talents but in God’s faithfulness and power. For nothing is impossible to God.

Advent Blessings,

Fr. Bob, Pastor

FOURTH SUNDAY OF ADVENT

DECEMBER 20, 2020

PRAY BEFORE YOU SPEAK

Have you ever been told to “think before you speak”? Nathan seems to have spoken too soon when he told David to do whatever he wanted about building a house for the LORD. He was being respectful to his king, and it sounded like a good idea. But later that night the Lord gave him a message for David: the LORD did not need anyone to build him a house; God would make David’s house (in the sense of family or descendants) last forever.

As a prophet Nathan was expected to speak for the LORD. When he finally listened to the LORD, he got the message right. And that can be a lesson to us. Instead of just thinking before we speak, it could be a good idea to pray before we speak.

How many times have we said something in anger—or selfishness, fear, any strong feeling—that we wished we could take back? If we just think before we speak, we might just rationalize what we wanted to say in the first place. But if we take a little more time to bring our feelings to God, ask for guidance and listen for what God would have us say, things might turn out a lot better.

God can also surprise us if given the chance. The kingdom (“house”) God was promising was not a political one, but a universal one. Jesus fulfills this promise as the Son of God who came to proclaim the Kingdom of God. Jesus himself prayed to the Father often in his life.

We can do the same. We pray before meals; why not pray before going to work? We can pray before making decisions about our family, getting engaged, taking a new job, buying a new house/car/HD-TV, etc. When a friend or relative needs someone to talk to, we can pray that we listen well and say what God wants our friend to hear. When we are sorry for hurting someone, we can pray for forgiveness and even listen to God to learn what we might do to make it up to them. If we have enough faith to let God guide our lives, let’s take the time in prayer to listen for that guidance.

CHRISTMAS IN THE HEART

Christmas! ’Tis the season for kindling the fire of hospitality in the hall, the genial fire of charity in the heart.

—Washington Irving

Sunday Notes

THE ETERNAL GOD

King David wished that the ark of God might have a more permanent home. David may have envisioned something like the cedar palace where he resided. God had in mind something more: a throne where David's descendants would rule for ever, a kingdom where Jews and Gentiles alike would be welcome.

Mary's prayerful nature led to an even more disturbing message. She would conceive and bear a Son though she was not yet married. "How can this come about?" Mary wondered. "The Holy Spirit will come upon you," she was told (Luke 1:35).

Mary's acceptance of this difficult challenge ushered in this, the final age of God's reign. What was once a secret known only by chosen people like King David and his descendants must now be made clear to all so that, as Saint Paul wrote to the Romans, we can be brought to the "obedience of faith" "according to the command of the eternal God" (Romans 16:26).

FEAST OF FAITH

Gathering

When Pope Benedict XVI visited the United States in 2008, tens of thousands gathered in Yankee Stadium to celebrate the Eucharist with him. What made them different from all the other excited crowds who have assembled there through the years? When they began to sing together, to listen together, to pray together, they ceased to be a crowd, and became a liturgical assembly. It was not where they were but what they did that set them apart.

The Gospels speak of many instances when Jesus prayed alone to his Father. But Jesus also put a special value on communal prayer. "Where two or three are gathered together in my name," he told his disciples, "there am I in the midst of them" (Matthew 18:20). Jesus gave his own mission to his followers, sending them forth to do everything he did: to heal, to teach, to proclaim the kingdom. Jesus wants us to meet God in and through each other. So the Christian community continues to gather, Sunday after Sunday. When we get up on Sunday morning and come to Mass, we respond to Jesus' invitation, and we express our trust in his promise that whenever we come together, he comes, too.

Religious Education

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION?

This is the fourth week of Advent. We light our final purple candle on the Advent wreath this Sunday. It is referred to as the "Love" candle. This Sunday, our readings stir in us a sense of hope, peace and joy and directs us toward love. God is always in the business of loving His people. We remember that the Gospel of John shares that God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, and that God is love. This fourth Sunday of Advent we continue waiting. We are waiting for the love within us to be born into our world again, for the coming of our savior.

Christmas arrives on Friday. I invite you to place yourself on the hillsides with the shepherds in the silent chill with patient anticipation of something they couldn't fathom until the angel told them. Imagine the three wise men silhouetted in the brightness of the Christmas star. Meditate on being in that stable with the smell of straw, animals, and a beautiful Newborn Who is our hope. I encourage you to let your burdens drop away at the foot of the manger. Imagine Jesus smiling at you. You can receive Him into your arms and heart as Mary holds Him out to you, as the gentle Joseph looks on. This Child is our victory, our hope, our peace, our joy, and our endless source of love.

The Religious Education Office wishes all families of the parish a very Holy and Merry Christmas!

COMPASSIONATE CARE MINISTRY

The Compassionate Care Ministry is again badly in need of postage stamps for its notes of sympathy and support during the first year following the loss of a loved one. Each bereaved family receives six cards during that year. This means that if there are ten funerals during a period of one month, 50 stamps are needed in that month alone. Your generous donations have meant so much in the past and we are very grateful.

If you are able to contribute to this worthwhile ministry in this way, it will be very much appreciated. Simply place them in an envelope marked CCM and put them through the slot in the rectory door—or drop them in one of the collection baskets located at each exit in the church building.

Thank you very much.
