Notes from Fr. Bob...

5TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Like the first disciples, we have been invited to a life of intimacy and sharing with Jesus. We are privileged to walk in his company each day and observe all that he says and does. By imitating him, we grow in holiness and life. But is something more expected of us?

The first reading describes the origins of Isaiah's prophetic call during a liturgical celebration in Jerusalem temple during the reign of King Uzziah (783-742 BC). It has three distinct parts or movements: the theophany, the purification, and the prophet's willingness to serve. Aware of God's utter holiness and of his own unworthiness, Isaiah naturally covers in the divine presence until an angel purifies his lips with a burning ember from the altar. Isaiah then offers to serve as the messenger of the Lord. This same pattern, found so often in other call narratives in the Old Testament, repeats itself in the Gospel. After teaching the crowds from Simon's boat, Jesus says to him: "Put out into deep water and lower your nets for a catch." Simon hesitates momentarily, and then is overwhelmed by the enormity of the catch made. Humbled, he begs Jesus to depart, but the Lord does not. Instead, Jesus' words reassure him and he leaves everything to become a follower. The Corinthians text is one of the earliest creedal statements. Its authoritativeness is evident in the technical language used: Paul "hands over" (paradidōmi) what he has "received" (paralambánō). This teaching touches on the heart of the good news: "...that Christ died for our sins... that he was buried...that he was raised on the third day... that he appeared to Cephas, then to the Twelve."

The first Sundays in Ordinary Time have focused on the beginnings of Jesus' ministry and the inauguration of the messianic age. Today's readings bring us to a new and challenging reality: our call to share in his saving mission. The Christian call is more than a summons to faith or to holiness. Like Isaiah and Peter, WE ARE CALLED IN ORDER TO BE SENT. Isaiah will speak God's prophetic word; Peter will shepherd the church and oversee its expanding missionary effort. To whom, and for what purpose, are we being sent today?

Called to be Sent.

Young Engineers use Simple Machines and Creativity to Bring their Inventions to Life

After completing their unit on simple machines our fifth graders put their newly gained knowledge to work and designed inventions using simple machines. Students tracked the evolution of their designs in a journal with sketches and entries talking about what worked and what didn't. Last Monday, the young inventors proudly showed off their creations to younger students inspiring them to start thinking about inventions they could create.

Catholic Schools Week Kicks off with Crazy Hats

The halls of St. Cletus School looked a little different on Monday as students showed off their personalities for Crazy Hat Day. This was the first of the themed days for Catholic Schools Week. The themes are dreamed up by our Catholic Schools Week Committee and end with the annual Red vs White volleyball game on Friday.

Jubilee Year of Mercy

“Let us rediscover these corporal works of mercy: to feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, clothe the naked, welcome the stranger, heal the sick, visit the imprisoned, and bury the dead,” Pope Francis writes. Let us keep this invitation in prayer as we begin our Lenten journey.

YEAR OF MERCY NOTES FROM OUR DIRECTOR OF FAITH FORMATION

If you would like to receive a message each day with one simple thing you can do to celebrate this Year of Mercy, click on the following link: www.flocknote.com/mercy. Sometimes there is an inspirational video, a short true-life story, or a thoughtful quote from Pope Francis. There is no charge and you may discontinue receiving them at any time. Check it out!

FEBRUARY 7

During this Jubilee Year of Mercy, Pope Francis calls us to share with everyone the tender compassion of God that we ourselves have experienced. In today’s Gospel, Luke uses a special Greek word conveying just such tenderness. In the other Gospels, Jesus calls the disciples to be “fishers,” haleis, the same word that means catching fish with hooks or nets, to be killed and eaten. But Luke uses zogron, from zoe or “life,” meaning “catch or gather people alive,” as animal lovers capture without harming, rescue from “the wild” for a better life, and protect in aquarium or zoo, tenderly cared for by professionals committed to the creatures’ well-being. So in Luke’s vision—and Pope Francis’ as well—we who have been “caught alive” by God’s mercy ourselves are to become “missionaries of mercy” during this Jubilee Year of Mercy, rescuing fellow sinners from danger and gathering them into Jesus’ community to enjoy fullness of life

MOMENTS OF MERCY FEBRUARY 2016

As Catholics we take up the Lenten practices of prayer, fasting, and almsgiving every year. These practices help us to remember the merciful love and compassion that God shows all people. Participating in these practices, we journey toward repentance with our community and God and toward the celebration of the Paschal Mystery of our Lord. We do not make this journey alone. The whole Church prepares for the celebration and together, along with those who are preparing to enter the Church at the Easter Vigil, we try to live more faithfully to God's call to be merciful, loving, and compassionate to those around us. Our acts of love through sacrifice and prayer are a tangible witness of God's love to those around us.

1. Spend some time in reflection about why you choose to participate in the prayer, fasting, and almsgiving of the Church during this Lenten season. Next time someone asks you why you aren't eating the chicken on Friday in the lunchroom, you'll be better prepared to share your belief in God who is merciful and compassionate.

2. Share with someone what your Lenten practices will be this year. This is not to brag about how good you are at following Christ, rather, it allows us to each have something of an "accountability partner" so that we can strive to be a more credible witness to our faith.

JUBILEE OF MERCY

COMFORT THE AFFLICTED

Mercy connects with the struggles of others. Mercy searches for ways of bringing comfort to them. We walk in the footsteps of Jesus when we are a source of solace and hope for suffering people, no matter the kind of suffering they experience.

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and the God of all consolation, who consoles us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to console those who are in any affliction. (2 Corinthians 1:3)

5th Sunday of Ordinary Time

HOLY, HOLY, HOLY!

“Holy, holy, holy!” Ancient languages, like the Hebrew used in the scriptures, did not always have a way to express superlatives in one word. Isaiah could not say God was “holiest,” so he used the threefold repetition of the same word. This bit of scriptural minutiae about these “three little words” that we sing at every Mass serves as a reminder that answering God’s call has to be grounded in awareness of God’s holiness. In Isaiah and in the Gospel passage today, we hear accounts of the revelation of God’s power and might: the seraphim in the temple and the miraculous catch of fish. These are not wondrous revelations for their own sakes. They lead to a response in mission, Isaiah’s “Here I am, send me!” and the disciples’ leaving everything to follow Jesus. And so must our own “Holy, Holy, Holy!” lead us to Christ in the Eucharist every Sunday, and to a life following him day by day.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

As the Roman Empire shattered and collapsed, the bishops were the people best equipped to catch the falling stones. In the West (that’s us), they sought to stabilize society by weaving a structure of laws and courts to uphold the rights and dignity of married couples in a chaotic world. The bishops in the East had a different approach, even allowing the dissolution of marriages in certain cases. To an extent, the bishops took a measure of control away from the fathers of families in order to provide pastoral care for those who suffered most in the social collapse: women and children.

In the West, much of the marriage law was contained in the “penitential books” the bishops devised to regulate the lives of public sinners. In the seventh century, Theodore of Canterbury’s penitential book said that he had the power to give consent to remarriage in the case of a poor fellow whose wife had been carried off by the Vikings. If the Vikings subsequently brought her back, she could remarry, too! No bishop ever made peace with divorce, but there was never a time when the pastoral concern of the church was not struggling with how to care for people in unhappy situations.
