PENTECOST SUNDAY

Today is the Feast of Pentecost, when we celebrate the birthday of the community we call the Church, created by the Holy Spirit. Today we affirm that we believe in the Holy Spirit – the Lord, the giver of life. How does he give us life? There are experts who produce reports on what gives us life that can perhaps shed some light on this. They say that we all need to be educated in relationships. We need to learn how to make and sustain lasting, quality relationships. These experts, who are not in the least bit religious, say that if we are to have happy, fulfilled lives, we need to realize that external things, like having more and more money, bigger houses, better cars, more exotic holidays, aren't what make us happy. Perhaps that is what Paul tells us when he says that self-indulgence is the opposite of the Spirit, leading to jealousy, quarrels, envy and the idolatry of materialism. Again, according to many experts, the things that make us happy and able to face the difficulties of life are a sense of belonging, a sense of community, a network of quality relationships. When they are in place, whatever is going on in the outside world, at least we have a measure of happiness in our own world.

That is exactly what we believe as Christians. St. Paul tells us that the Spirit is our life. In the gospel, Jesus tells his disciples that they too will be his witnesses. They are drawn together into a community of love, so that they can live out in their life together the love of God, to which they are bearing witness. Their actions reinforce their preaching. Put simply, you can't be a Christian by yourself. When people say 'you don't need to go to church to pray', they are right. But to be a Christian we do need to belong to a community if we are to do what Jesus commanded: celebrate the Eucharist, serve other people and bear witness to the world. That is why the Church is called into being.

The same Spirit, who gave the apostles the courage to preach in Jerusalem and beyond, also enables us to be the Lord's witnesses to the people of our own time, but we cannot do these things alone.

Belonging to a community is part of what it is to be human, as well as Christian, part of what it is to have a happy, full and fulfilled life. It is the Spirit who draws us into community and so gives us life. The same Holy Spirit, who came upon the community of the apostles, is given to each one of us through the church community at our baptism and confirmation. But the Spirit is given for a purpose: so that we too can witness to the risen Christ. The Spirit equips us for this mission by giving us the gifts which Paul lists: love, joy, patience, kindness, gentleness – the gifts which make community possible.

As Paul tells us, we need to be open to the Spirit and to let ourselves be directed by the Spirit. This means allowing ourselves to enter meaningful, committed relationships with others, and working together in service of others and in witness to Christ. Today, with confidence, we can all ask the Spirit to give us his gifts and to enable us to proclaim the gospel of Christ by the quality of our love and the witness of our daily lives.

BOOK DISCUSSION

For the next book discussion, we are reading Saints for All Occasions by J. Courtney Sullivan. We will meet on June 8, 2021 at 7 PM. The location will be announced in the Canticle beforehand. As always, all are welcome. Questions – call Denise at 708.712.8294

WORD OF LIFE

"The Lord says to us, 'Do not fear: I am with you' (Isaiah 41:10). He speaks these words not as one who merely observes our pain, but as one who experienced immense suffering. And the very wounds that bear witness to his suffering indicate the essence of our identity and worth: we are loved by God.

Reflecting on the healed wounds of the Risen Christ, we see that even our most difficult trials can be the place where God manifests his victory. He makes all things beautiful. He makes all things new."

Religious Education

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION?

Happy Birthday!

Today is Pentecost Sunday, also known as the “Birthday of the Church”. Before the risen Jesus returned to his Father in heaven, he visited his disciples and promised to send the Holy Spirit to them. We hear in the Acts of the Apostles that one morning, when the apostles were gathered with Mary, the mother of Jesus, and some other women they suddenly heard a noise like a strong wind. Then they saw what looked to be flames of fire over each of them. “And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit.” (Acts 2:4) The Holy Spirit filled them all with courage and faith, empowering them to share the Good News with others.

The Holy Spirit came to them on Pentecost. God the Father and Jesus sent the Holy Spirit to help and guide the Church. The gift of the Holy Spirit changed the world and gave rise to the new Church, which is why we call Pentecost Sunday the “Birthday of the Church”.

Today, Pentecost Sunday reminds each of us that we are filled with the Holy Spirit. In Galatians 5:25 we hear, “Since we live by the Spirit, let us keep in step with the Spirit.” Here are a few suggestions for keeping in step with the Spirit in our lives:

In our homes – find ways to inspire and encourage those we love to use their talents, abilities and gifts of the Spirit. Avoid fighting, or provoking and envying each other. A home filled with the Spirit is a home of peace.

In our Church – come to Church and worship together with your church community, asking the Holy Spirit to reignite the gifts of the Spirit within us. Share compliments and gratitude to those who have served us at Mass during this past year – the clergy, the liturgical ministers, and the countless volunteers on the reopening team who welcome us, usher us and keep us safe when we come to Mass.

In our communities – ask the Holy Spirit to give us the courage and the right words to say when we have conversations with neighbors and friends.

Fr. Hesburgh of Notre Dame once shared that the one prayer that is always appropriate—whether you are fearful or at peace, whether you are joyful or sad, whether you are confident or afraid, whether you are young or old—is “Come, Holy Spirit!” Teach your children to ask for the Spirit to come and help them by praying, “Come, Holy Spirit!”

Sunday Notes - Pentecost Sunday

LORD, SEND OUT YOUR SPIRIT

In today's responsorial psalm the Church sings out: "Lord, send out your Spirit, and renew the face of the earth." All three readings describe how God has answered that prayer already.

In the first reading from the Acts of the Apostles and in the Gospel passage from John, we read of astonishing events that called cowherding disciples to step out of hiding and proclaim news that would condemn them and change the world forever! In the second reading Paul's words reach out into the future to us: "we were all given to drink of one Spirit" (1 Corinthians 12:13).

It is our task to truly pray today's psalm response. Let us together beg the Holy Spirit to renew the earth by renewing the Church, sending many more men and women to serve in its various ministries.

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak in different tongues (Acts 2:1-11).

Psalm — Lord, send out your Spirit, and renew the face of the earth (Psalm 104).

Second Reading — There are different kinds of spiritual gifts but the same Spirit (1 Corinthians 12:3b-7, 12-13) or Galatians 5:16-25.

Gospel — As the Father has sent me, so I send you: Receive the Holy Spirit (John 20:19-23) or John 15:26-27; 16:12-15.
