Pastor's Note

*"If you remain in me and my words remain in you, ask for whatever you want, and it will be done for you.
By this is my Father glorified,
that you bear much fruit and become my disciples."
John 15:7-8.*

Dear Friends,

Quite frequently the Lord through his Living Word (Bible) brings me back to the time I enjoyed being raised by my parents in Peru. They had a child-like faith. They put all their trust in God. They believed in a God who cares and who is close to his people. For them God was attentive to the needs of his children. "God will provide," is something that my siblings and I will hear them saying often. Daily, I give thanks to the Lord for the parents he gave me.

At our parish, St. Cletus, I am also able to sense and notice your child-like faith. You have a special relationship with the Lord. You also want your children and grandchildren to have the Lord as part of their lives. In addition, you want all those who come to St. Cletus Parish/School to feel welcome, at home, and to grow in relationship with the Lord. You acknowledge being loved by God and you want others to feel the same. Thank you for your witness.

Last week (April 18-19), our Parish School hosted it's High School Musical Jr. in the Parish Center. The play was amazing. The children took ownership. They worked together. They grew in friendship and appreciation of each other. They intentionally made the choice to offer us their hearts. They gave us much joy and laughter. On behalf of the Parish/School Staff, I would like to offer them my sincere gratitude. I pray that our good and gracious Lord will continue to offer you his friendship and love.

Our incredible and generous cast and crew of High School Musical Jr. was supported by a dedicated Production Team. They were Sara Hodak and Jane Svec, Directors; Nikki Gorman, Choreography and Sound; Carla Prosen, Music Support; Eileen Dorchinecz, Set Design; Margaret Napleton, Costumes; and Martha Toledo, Backstage Support. They offered kindness, encouragement, and love to our children. They are witnesses of the closeness and the love that God has for us all. I would like to offer them my wholehearted gratitude.

Our Parish Food Pantry Ministry continues to be a source of hope, encounter, and support for many. I am happy to let you know that those who come to us seeking support are greeted and welcomed as children of God. They are always grateful and appreciative of the support and assistance they receive. We are able to do this thanks to your prayers and generosity. I was informed by Kendall Grant, Director of Social Concerns, that the matching donation for the Food Pantry ($35,000.00) and for St. Vincent De Paul ($15,000.00) were already reached as of last weekend. Once again, thank you.

As I reflect in everything that we try and do at St. Cletus as a Parish and School I see the Lord being with us and blessing our creativities and involvement. This is truly encouraging. Thank you.

Fr. Elmer Romero

Note From Father Mike

“God is greater than our hearts and knows everything.” (1 John 3:20b)

When we say God is omniscient, we mean it. He knows everything! Not that it should be a surprise to us who believe in God, but sometimes we act like we are going to be sneaky and hope that God doesn't see what we are doing, or, as if He won't hear us if we are lying or gossiping. Are you serious? There is nothing He doesn't know about us. There is nothing He doesn't know about what is happening in our families, or the country, or around the world somewhere on a remote island. HE KNOWS EVERYTHING!

Now, does that mean He is in complete control over us as individuals? Let's just say He isn't simply a puppeteer and we the puppets or toys. No. We are made in His image and likeness. We can believe that because He became one of us and not some other form of being. No. He became human. He chose to save humanity through a human being.

St. Anselm once taught us “God is greater than that which can be thought.” In other words, anything we can dream of, He is not only larger in “size,” but superior too. Think of some of the big things on earth – any of the seven wonders of the world, for instance. Go up to the top of Mt. Kilimanjaro and overlook what you see for miles around. God is greater. Go to the Hubble telescope and look out at the cosmos – stars, planets, meteors, comets, black holes, nebulae, supernovas, and more. As deep as you can go into space, God is greater. Even if you want to believe that all known things came to be at the explosion of ONE particle so wound up in kinetic energy, that particle was made. It didn't come into being on its own. So, all of the scientists who study the universe and search for its origin are in many ways really grasping at straws. But then, is God knowable to us? Absolutely!

It's one of the most amazing things in terms of our faith. The more we get to know Jesus, then we are getting to know God. Jesus tells us that He can only do what He sees the Father doing. So, then, getting to know Jesus is crucial. Realizing that we believe that He is truly human without ever sinning is not supposed to be something that is “nice” about Jesus. His stainless soul is meant to offer humanity hope for our own salvation and offers us the ability to repent so as to follow Him closer and closer. Is perfection attainable? God is perfect. But the Son of God died. Doesn't that make Him imperfect? Actually, it doesn't make him imperfect at all.

Death is simply part of God's rhythm for life. Everything that comes into existence will cease to exist someday. That goes for the universe and all that is in it now or will come into being. Stars and planets form every day, and every day, they die too. And then what happens? They drift through space, sometimes their remains collide with other debris from other matter. It amazes me that with as much as debris out there from those dead planets and stars, there are not more catastrophic incidents. But then, that is how God designed it all. VAST! All of that debris continues to scatter outward – never hitting any sort of barrier. In other words, God continues to allow such debris to exist.

In the case of human beings, we think that when someone dies, they are gone forever. God made us such that each of us would have a span of life individually by design -- some longer, some shorter. But that is what presses us to live. And as St. Paul says in the letter to the Corinthians, when our earthly dwelling is done, we have “a dwelling not made with hands, eternal in heaven.” (2 Cor 5:1c) Even St. Paul, way back believed that we live on. After all, the dead do not dwell anywhere, but the living do. GOD KNOWS EVERYTHING!

Take solace,
Father Mike

Faith Formation

This past Sunday our preschool and kindergarten children heard the story of Christ’s Ascension into heaven. Gathered as the apostles, our children let a balloon go, (environmentally safe) and much as the apostles, watched in amazement as the balloon floated out of sight.

We have reached the end of our Faith Formation year. Sunday, April 28 and Monday, April 29 will be our last sessions for the 2023 – 2024 Faith Formation year.

Our First Communion will be celebrated on Saturday, May 4 at two special ceremonies 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. Another group of our children will celebrate their First Communion during the Spanish Mass on May 5th.

Please pray for our children and their families as they take this important step in their faith formation.

PURGATORIAL SOCIETY

St. Antoninus relates that a pious gentleman had died, who was a great friend of the Dominican Convent in which the Saint resided. Many Masses and suffrages were offered for his soul. The Saint was very much afflicted when, after the lapse of a long time, the soul of the poor gentleman appeared to him, suffering excruciating pains. “Oh, my Dear Friend,” exclaimed St. Antoninus, “are you still in Purgatory, you who led such a pious and devout life?”

“Yes, and I shall remain there still for a long time,” replied the poor sufferer, “for when on Earth I neglected to offer suffrages for the souls in Purgatory. Now, God by a just judgment has applied the suffrages which have been offered for me to those souls for whom I should have prayed.” “But God, too, in His Justice, will give me all the merits of my good works when I enter Heaven; but first of all, I have to expiate my grave neglect in regard to others.”

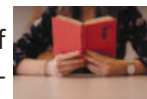

From booklet: "Read Me or Rue it" by Fr. Paul O’Sullivan O.P.

The St. Cletus Purgatorial Society currently has 56 prayer warriors praying for 567 holy souls. Enroll your deceased
